A MOST IMPORTANT ADAMS LETTER CONCERNING THE TREATY OF PARIS.

3. ADAMS (JOHN). A. L. S., 2 pp. 8vo, as follows:

"Paris, June 26, 1783.

Sir

It is some time Since I had a Line from you or my Son. I hope all is well.

I can give you no News. There is a Species of Witchcraft governs in England which keeps them from knowing their own Minds,—and a Similar malignant Spirit reigns in America and prevents Us from getting any intelligence from thence.

I sometimes feel Wroth enough to wish for the Revival of an old Spirit to hang these Witches.—Yet we should find it difficult to get at, the true ones; So I believe I m[ust—here the letter is torn away]—recur to my old Resource, Patien[ce].

It is now Six Months that I have been waiting in Expectation that the next week would bring me Something certain, and I am now as uncertain as I was six months ago.

You will be So good as to inform me when you receive the Ratification of the Treaty and when Mr. Vanberckel Sails. and give my Love to my Boy and tell him not to forget his Promises.

Yours

JOHN ADAMS.

MR. DUMAS."

CONCERNING THE TREATY OF PARIS, the great final event in connection with the Revolutionary War. Benjamin Franklin and John Adams were the two plenipotentiaries sent by the United States to arrange the general treaty of peace between England and America. This treaty was signed at Paris by Franklin and Adams on the 20th of January, 1783. It was not, however, until the 23d of March, 1783, that the first intelligence of the treaty reached America, for trans-Atlantic news in those days took more than three months from continent to continent.

At the date of this letter (June 26, 1783) Adams was still waiting to learn of the ratification of peace by the Governments of the countries, and the contents show that he is chafing under these conditions of uncertainty. He expressly mentions his desire for information concerning "THE RATIFICATION OF THE TREATY."

This letter, addressed to Dumas, the friend of Franklin and one of America's most trusted and valuable of European agents throughout the Revolution, is BEYOND QUESTION ONE OF THE FINEST ADAMS LETTERS IN EXISTENCE, REFERRING THROUGHOUT TO ONE OF THE GREATEST HISTORICAL EVENTS IN THE ANNALS OF ENGLAND AND AMERICA.

THE LETTER IS UNPUBLISHED.

4. ADAMS (JOHN). Works, with Life and Notes, by Charles Francis Adams. LARGE PAPER COPY. Portrait. 10 vols. royal 8vo, half crimson levant, gilt tops, by R. W. SMITH. Bost. 1856

* Adams possessed many faculties which distinguished him among the statesmen of his day—pluck, courage and bulldog tenacity without a trace of craft, cunning and selfishness.

5. [AINSWORTH (WILLIAM HARRISON).] Poems, by Cheviot Tichburn; The Maid's Revenge; and A Summer's Evening Tale, with other poems. 8vo, new half calf gilt, gilt top (with the half-titles and last leaf containing printer's device). Lond. 1823

*THE VERY RARE FIRST EDITION OF ONE OF AINSWORTH'S EARLIEST PRODUCTIONS. The work is dedicated "To My Friend Charles Lamb, as a slight mark of gratitude for his kindness and admiration of his character, these Poems are inscribed."

Ainsworth was but 18 years of age when this work was published. In a letter written to Ainsworth just about the time this work was issued Lamb says in part (after making interesting comments regarding some old books) . . . "I must thank you for your kind invitation. It is not out of prospect that I may see Manchester some day . . . I shall be happy to see you [in London]. I am always to be found (alas!) at my desk," etc.

6. [AINSWORTH (WILLIAM HARRISON).] The Works of Cheviot Tichburn. 8vo, half calf.

[Manchester]: With the types of John Lehigh, 1825

*THE FIRST PRIVATELY PRINTED EDITION PUBLISHED IN THE AUTHOR'S NATIVE TOWN (Manchester). An edition had, however, been printed in 1822 in London. Ainsworth was but 19 years of age when this work was issued (which was in Dec., 1824, though dated on the title 1825).

It consists of poems, etc., "Luctus on the Death of Lord Byron," "To Clara," "Lines on the Death of Napoleon," etc., etc., all of which show youthful enthusiasm. There are numerous errors in printing, a "Notice" on the last leaf reading "The Printer's Devil Extraordinary presents his respectful compliments to the Author,—Regrets that a few inaccuracies exist," etc., etc.

VERY RARE.

A Superb Collection of Books with Colored Plates By Henry Alken.

10. ALKEN COLORED PLATES.—Real Life in Ireland; or, The Day and Night Scenes, Rovings, Rambles and Sprees, Bulls, Blunders, Bodderation and Blarney of Brian Boru, Esq., and his Elegant Friend Sir Shawn O'Dogherty, exhibiting a Real Picture of Characters, Manners, etc., in High and Low Life in Dublin and various parts of Ireland. By "A Real Paddy." THE RARE FIRST EDN. With the series of 19 humorous plates, IN COLOR, by Alken, Heath and Marks. 8vo, full crimson crushed levant morocco, with ornate corner-pieces and richly tooled back, inlays of green levant, gilt top, rough edges, some uncut, by WOOD. Lond. 1821

* Real Life in Ireland is one of the most spirited productions of its kind, of which several were issued in the early part of the XIXth Century, notably Egan's Life in London. The colored plates are full of life and dash, and depict drinking scenes, duels, processions, etc., illustrating the many phases of high and low life in Ireland at the period. The plates are of interest from another standpoint, as they depict the costumes of the times. Some contain portraits, three of them having portraits of George IVth, illustrative of his visit to Dublin. The work was printed on a poor grade of paper, and consequently is nearly always in poor condition, this copy, however, being a notable exception.

volume, by RIVIERE. Lond. 1822-1828

* A COMPLETE SET, OF WHICH ONLY ONE OTHER [and not so choice a set] HAS BEEN OFFERED AT PUBLIC AUCTION IN THIS COUNTRY. EXTREMELY RARE.

The title to Vol. XIII reads January to June, 1828, but by the end of May, 1828, the subscribers to the work had fallen away so that but a very small number of copies of the June number were issued, and few sets contain them, the above being no exception to the general rule.

IT IS DOUBTFUL IF A FINER SET COULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

COLORED COPY OF NATIONAL SPORTS.

with the 1821 edition, while the plates in this issue cover the same subjects, they vary considerably from the earlier one.

Lond.: Rudolph Ackerman, Eclipse Sporting Gallery, 1842

* SUPERB COPY OF THE RARE FIRST EDITION, and one of the most difficult books of this class to procure in desirable condition. The colored plates by Alken are considered by connoisseurs to be among some of the finest and most spirited of that famous artist's work. Several of the plates are mounted, as is always the case in the first issue.

Some of the plates in this work will always stand out as the acme of English color-printing, notably "A Night with Sir Thomas Mostyn" (fox-hunting), the "Bird-Nesting" plate, the portrait of Dick Knight, etc.

FINE TALL COPY OF THE FIRST EDITION.

21. ALKEN COLORED PLATES. 22. ALLEN (ETHAN). Reason the Only Oracle of Man; or, A Compendious System of Natural Religion. Alternately adorned with Confutations of a variety of Doctrines incompatible to it; deduced from the most exalted Ideas which we are able to form of the Divine and Human Characters, and from the Universe in General. 8vo, original sheep. * "Remarkable as being the first work published in America in direct opposition to the Christian Religion."—SABIN.

"Nearly all the copies, it is said, were burned (as they richly deserved to be) by the conscience-stricken publisher."—J. H. TRUMBULL.

23. AMERICA. MANUSCRIPT LOG of a Voyage from Bristol, in the snow "Wennie," Capt. the Rt. Hon. Lord Hope, for the West Indies and North American Colonies, November, 1765, to June, 1766. With the Day-by-Day observations respecting the course of the vessel, wind, remarks on weather, duties, etc., from the start to the arrival; in Sections divided by their touching at Lisbon, Madeira, Barbadoes, Martinico, St. Christopher's, Charles Town, and as far as Virginia. With portion of the return Voyage Log, on board the snow "Mercury," commencing September, 1766.

Reversing the volume, and commencing from the other end, after a series of Navigation Tables, there are 70 pp. of information respecting the places visited by the writer. Small 4to, original vellum. 1766

* NOTES.—At Lisbon are a good many Irish; description of the aqueduct.—Teneriffe: the Peak, 6 miles perpendicular.—Barbadoes: Account of Sugar, Treacle and Rum production.—Martinico: gives an account of its capture by the English in 1762.—N. Carolina: very poorly inhabited; prodigious number of alligators; plenty of fish, but people too indolent to catch them.—Boston: describes a beacon kept in readiness to summon 40,000 men under arms, in case of attack; mentions Cambridge (Mass.) College. Early settlers so pushed for food they had to eat the dried bodies of the Indians whom they had killed. Three Indian Princesses protected them, and supplied them with food. There are nearly 50,000 inhabitants in Boston, and nine places of worship. Much game here.—Nova Scotia first inhabited 1751, people live principally on fish.—Pennsylvania: great part cleared, and fully inhabited, increasing much every year, not so much by births, as by the number of Palatines emigrants. Philadelphia has over 45,000 inhabitants. It is the best planned place in America. Describes some of the street and houses. Great trade in shipping. Properly lighted with lamps. Mentions William Penn.

Describes also Rhode Island, Connecticut, etc.

Of New York Province and City: first settled by the Dutch, a quiet, industrious people. English obtained it in exchange for Surinam. Has some fine buildings, mostly of brick. Well fortified. Population over 50,000, exclusive of soldiers and sailors. FLASHIER AND DRESS GAYER than in any other port of the Continent.—Virginia: Tobacco is the chief produce.

Throughout, as far as the writer travelled, he seems to have been particularly inquisitive respecting the produce, soil, exports and imports of the various places he visited; and altogether, as a bona-fide document of a century and a half ago, has considerable interest.

NEW YORK AND JOHN JACOB ASTOR.

24. AMERICAN FUR COMPANY RECORDS. TWO LEDGERS, TWO JOURNALS, INVOICE BOOK AND BLOTTER OF THE AMERICAN FUR COMPANY, JOHN JACOB ASTOR & SON, PROPRIETORS, COVERING THE BUSINESS OF THE NORTHERN DEPARTMENT FROM 1817 TO 1835, WITH AGENCIES AT MONTREAL, DETROIT AND MACKINAW (or Michilimacinac, as it is invariably written). Together 6 vols., folio, calf, about 1,000 pages each, with all the rulings made by hand, in two stout, especially made traveling cases, fitted with compartments, lock and key.

These books, which have been missing for nearly seventy-five years, recently escaped destruction by the merest accident. They present a very valuable record of one of the greatest industries of this country in its infancy; with its relations to Indians. "Voyageurs," fur-trappers and pioneers from Detroit to the Rocky Mountains, and are valuable alike for their historical interest and for their record of the foundation of one of the greatest fortunes ever amassed in this or any other country. They relate to Astor's fur-trade just after the War of 1812, when he had been forced to abandon his business at Astoria, on the Pacific Coast, because of his partner, McDougall, selling him out to the British Northwest Company.

The blotter is begun on the first page, the opening entry being made on April 1, 1817. On May 13, of that year, a transfer was made to Mackinaw. Two columns are made, one for English and the other for American money. On May 3, 1817, an entry shows that LEWIS CASS TOOK ABOUT $35,000 of the Astor money from Montreal to Detroit in consideration of something not set down. In addition to the names of Lewis Cass and James Abbott, there are accounts with the Beaubien outfit, the Jean Reaume outfit, the Wabash, Illinois, Iroquois and Chicago outfits, and the name of Robert Stuart. The ledgers, of course, contain the most interesting business records, with a number of well-known names and accounts of great magnitude, including H. H. Sibley, Oliver Newberry and Biddle & Grew, all of Detroit and Michigan interest.

The traffic Astor plied with the Indians was enormously profitable as the following entries show that he charged for

1 pound of tea,	$ 2.00
1 pair superfine blue pantaloons,	25.00
2 tin candle sticks,	3.85
$\frac{1}{4}$ box cigars,	4 00
1 gallon brandy,	7.00
1 blister plaster,	8.40

Different prices at different times show that Astor charged whatever he thought a customer could pay, and not content with his large profit CHARGED A PER CENT. FOR THE PRIVILEGE OF TRADING WITH HIM AS SHOWN BY THE FOLLOWING ENTRY IN CONNECTION WITH A BILL OF GOODS FOR THE INDIANS.

Amount brought forward,	$6,145.07
Commission of 5 per cent.,	307.25

For upwards of forty years Astor dealt in furs at Mackinaw, and finely sold out entirely in 1834 shortly before this set of books was closed. THE BOOKS ARE AS HANDSOME A SET AS THE MOST FASTIDIOUS OLD-FASHIONED MERCHANT COULD WISH FOR AND ARE IN A SPLENDID STATE OF PRESERVATION.

25. AMERICAN HISTORY. Hutchinson (Thomas). History of the Colony of Massachusetts Bay from the First Settlement therein in 1628 until its Incorporation with Plymouth, Main, etc., in 1691; History of the Province of Massachusetts Bay from 1691 until 1750; History of the Province of Massachusetts Bay from 1750 until June, 1774. Together 3 vols. 8vo (Vols. I and II in the original calf—Vol. III in paper covers, uncut, and is without the extra preface found in some copies). Lond. 1760-'68-1828

* FINE SET of this great work, which must ever be considered a mine of wealth by all future historians and antiquaries.

The first volume has the early title-page, with date 1760 in error for 1765, which was soon cancelled. The volumes having appeared at dates so wide apart it is difficult to find them together. RARE.

26. AMERICAN MAGAZINES. HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE. Vols. 1 to 68, with index for Vols. 1-60. 69 vols. royal 8vo, half brown morocco (index in cloth). N. Y. 1850-1884

* Contains thousands of illustrations. An unusually long and complete series of this ever-popular magazine.

[Resold for account of purchaser.]

28. AMERICAN REVOLUTION. A Form of Prayer, to be used in all Churches, on Friday, Dec. 13, 1776, being the day appointed for a General Fast, on account of the TROUBLES IN AMERICA. 12mo, half olive levant morocco, gilt top. Lond. [1776]

* RARE. The text of "A Prayer for our Enemies" is pathetically amusing when the causes which brought about the Revolution, as well as its outcome, are taken into account.

29. AMERICAN REVOLUTION. Moragné (M. E.). The British Partizan: A Tale of the Times of Old. 16mo, new half brown polished morocco gilt, gilt top (somewhat time-discolored). AUGUSTA, GA.: Printed and Published by W. T. Thompson, 1839.

* "The British Partizan is a Historical Romance, and as it develops much of the History of that sad partizan warfare which in those times of old 'so distracted the Southern section of our Country, our admiration of it has been measured in some degree by our appreciation of the Historical interest which has been so ingeniously woven in its details. The characters are no creations of the brain, but are drawn from real life, the recollections of whose deeds and sufferings are not yet entirely extinct among some of the older citizens of the district in which they lived.'"—Publisher's Preface.

AN EXTREMELY RARE WORK, FOUNDED ON INCIDENTS CONNECTED WITH THE REVOLUTIONARY HISTORY OF GEORGIA AND SOUTH CAROLINA. No copy seems ever to have been previously noted bibliographically.

Revolutionary Transactions and Incidents in which he was Concerned, etc. 8vo, newly bound in half blue polished morocco gilt, gilt top (a few pp. stained).

Greensborough, N. C.: Swain & Sherwood, 1842

* "THIS RARE REVOLUTIONARY BIOGRAPHY is replete with incidents of interest associated with the campaigns of CORNWALLIS, TARLETON, etc., in the South, and it is curious that no copy—either owing to its scarcity or to the fact of its historical value being unknown—appeared in the Libraries devoted to Americana, viz.: those of Rice, Roche, Wight, Fisher, Davis, Morrell and others."—Sabin in Menzies Cat. Since the date of that sale (1875) we are unable to trace the record of any other copy.

31. ANDREWS (WILLIAM LORING). Fanny: a Poem, by Fitz-Greene Halleck. With Notes. Folio, original cloth. N. Y. 1866

* One of five copies printed on India paper and on one side of the paper only. This is the first, as far as we can trace, of the India paper copies that has been sold by auction. Mr. Andrews has written on the fly-leaf: "Five copies only printed on India paper. No. 3. W. L. Andrews." Even the regular edition of 70 copies is very rare and often missing in collections of this charming author's works. It was not until this copy came to light that we were aware that any had been printed in this special style.

32. ARETINO (PIETRO). The Ragionamenti. Including Three Dialogues: The Life of Nuns, The Life of Married Women, the Life of Courtesans. Portrait. 8vo, boards (cracked), uncut. Paris, 1889

* This copy contains only three of the dialogues, but is complete in itself.

ARNOLD'S FIRST POEM—THE FIRST COPY OFFERED AT PUBLIC SALE IN AMERICA.

33. ARNOLD (MATTHEW). Alaric at Rome. A Prize Poem, Recited in Rugby School, June XII, MDCCCXL. 8vo, in the ORIGINAL PRINTED PINK PAPER COVERS, UNCUT, enclosed in a morocco wrapper, front lettered in full, with ties. Rugby: Combe and Crossley, 1840

* Mr. Slater, in his "Early Editions," says: "This is a post 8vo pamphlet of eleven pages, without cover, and until recently the only copy known was in the library of Mr. Edmund Gosse. A second copy has, however, since been reported."

The copy here offered is in the original printed pink paper covers, with the inscription, "Miss Ward 1840," IN ARNOLD'S AUTOGRAPH ON THE UPPER MARGIN. ALMOST UNDOUBTEDLY A PRESENTATION COPY AND IN THIS CONDITION PERHAPS UNIQUE.

Matthew Arnold's reputation as a poet has been increasing since his death, and his name will in future be ranked with Tennyson and Browning. This, Arnold's first publication, is much rarer than "Pauline."

34. ART JOURNAL (THE), from the Commencement of the New Series in 1849 to the end of 1887. Illust. with thousands of beautiful full-page steel engravings, etchings and woodcuts. 39 vols. 4to, uniform half brown morocco, gilt edges. Lond. 1849-87

* It is seldom now that such a long series is offered for sale. It comprises the most extensive and elegant illustrations of the modern British School of Painting, Sculpture and other Fine Arts ever published.

A VERY CHOICE COLLECTION.

35. [AUSTEN (JANE).] Pride and Prejudice: A Novel. In 3 vols. small 8vo, prettily bound in three-quarter light blue crushed levant gilt, gilt tops, by STIKEMAN, WITH ALL THE HALF-TITLES. Lond.: T. Egerton, 1813

* THE EXTREMELY RARE FIRST EDITION OF MISS AUSTEN'S MOST FAMOUS BOOK, AND IN POINT OF TIME THE FIRST OF THE GREAT SERIES OF NINETEENTH CENTURY ENGLISH NOVELS, antedating Sir Walter Scott's Waverley, etc.

Written in 1797, this story, like many others of the world's great classics, seemed at first destined never to find a publisher. The MS. was rejected by Cadell, immediately upon his receiving it, as not likely to sell. This was a great disappointment to the young authoress, who, losing faith somewhat in her "own darling child," as she called it, kept the MS. by her, half forgotten, for nearly sixteen years, when it was finally accepted by Egerton. To-day Miss Austen occupies an exceptional place in our literature, and is by many considered the greatest of English female writers of fiction. "Metaphor has been exhausted in refining upon the perfection of her art." Macaulay has asserted that in the drawing of character no other of our writers approaches so nearly to Shakespeare. Lewes declared that he would rather have been the author of Pride and Prejudice than any of the Waverley novels, while Sir Walter's own tribute to this simple and unpretending girl, extolling certain of her gifts which he confessed were denied to him as a novelist, is too well known to be quoted at length.

THE ORIGINAL EDITION (AND WITH ALL THE HALF TITLES) IS AN ITEM OF GREAT RARITY, AND THE PRESENT COPY SEEMS TO BE THE FIRST EVER OFFERED AT AUCTION IN THIS COUNTRY.

IN THE ORIGINAL PARTS. VERY RARE STATE.

36. AUDUBON (JOHN JAMES) AND BACHMAN (JOHN). The Quadrupeds of North America. With beautiful impressions of the NUMEROUS FINELY COLORED PLATES. 3 vols. royal 8vo, COMPLETE IN THE ORIGINAL PRINTED WRAPPERS, enclosed in 3 cloth cases.

N. Y.: V. G. Audubon, 1849-54

* EXTREMELY RARE IN THIS EXCEPTIONAL STATE. Mr. Chubbuck's copy sold in 1904 for 129 dollars. We know of no other recent sale of a complete set in the original parts.

37. AUTOGRAPH LETTERS OF FAMOUS ENGLISH AUTHORS. A collection of 24 Autograph Letters of English Authors famous in Victorian Literature, comprising many Letters which are of the HIGHEST INTEREST, many of which mention the writings of the various authors. Described in the order in which they appear:

DICKENS (CHARLES). A. L. S. (initials). 4 pp. 4to. Naples, Feb. 17th, 1845. One of the most remarkable Dickens letters in existence, being about 1,700 words in length, and containing a most vivid description of Mt. Vesuvius. The letter, which appears in "The Letters of Charles Dickens," Vol. 1, p. 136, is to his friend Thomas Mitton, in London. The writer says in part: "... This will be a hasty letter, for I am as badly off in this place as in America—beset by visitors at all times and seasons" "At Rome they speak beautiful Italian (I am pretty strong at that, I believe)" "It (Naples) is a fine place, but nothing like so beautiful as people make it out to be." . . . "Yesterday evening we began . . . the ascent of Vesuvius . . . By prodigious exertions we passed the region of snow, and came into that of fire, desolate and awful, you may well suppose," . . . "the fire was pouring out, reddening the night with flames, blackening it with smoke." . . . "At every step everybody fell, now into a hot chink, now into a bed of ashes . . . the shouting and roaring of the guides, the waiting every now and then for somebody who was not to be found, and was supposed to have tumbled into some pit, made such a scene," . . . "The sensation of struggling up, choked with fire and smoke, and feeling as if the crust of ground . . . would crumble . . . I shall remember." . . . "We looked down into the flaming bowels of the mountain, and came back again, alight in half-a-dozen places, and burnt from head to foot. You never saw such devils," etc., etc., including a most vivid description of the descent, quite as fascinating as the preceding. Then follows a postscript [unpublished]. With the fine portrait of Dickens by Johnson on India paper, signed by the artist, and the pages from the "Letters."

THACKERAY (WILLIAM MAKEPEACE). A. L. S. 1 p. 12mo, 1855. In contrast with the preceding letter, the specimen written by Thackeray is one of the SHORTEST he ever wrote, consisting of ONE LINE, containing THIRTY-THREE WORDS, written in a microscopic hand—"Dear Lady Mary. I scarcely think that the last letter was smaller than this. It is written without spectacles by your most obedient servant W. M. Thackeray, 36 Onslow Square, Brompton, March 15, 1855." With fine portrait by Hollier (signed).

"ELIOT (GEORGE)". A. L. S. 1 p. 12mo, Lond. 1872 (evidently to Messrs. Blackwood, her publishers), and entirely with reference to "Middlemarch." ". . . By to-day's post is sent the MS. of 'Middlemarch,' B.V. I enclose a list of 'Errata' . . . 'I should like the correction on p. 103.'" With portrait.

SCOTT (SIR WALTER). A. L. S. 1 p. 4to, Abbotsford, to Andrew Lang (1823), pertaining to the method of procedure in connection with a petition to the crown. With fine portrait on steel.

* Special interest attaches to this letter. The Andrew Lang to whom it is addressed was the Sheriff, Commissary Clerk and Clerk of Peace for Selkirkshire, the grandfather of Andrew Lang, the accomplished poet and man of letters of the present time, who edited the famous "Border Edition" of Scott's writings, acknowledged by critics the finest edited edition extant.

MEREDITH (GEORGE). A. L. S. 4 pp. 12mo, London, 1874, to Charles Kent (the friend and biographer of Dickens). A very interesting letter (with the original stamped envelope) about his literary work. ". . . I have a novel which is a story of the ideas and indications of the struggles of this time, drawn from the quick called 'Beauchamp's Career,' but the burden of the story is I fear too heavy," etc. With portrait.

CARLYLE (THOMAS). A. L. S. 3 pp. 12mo, Chelsea, Jan. 7, 1841, containing a fine appreciation of the character of Percy Leigh Hunt, the son of the poet. ". . . He is of unimpeachable character, really bent to make an honest struggle for himself . . . and of the rather rare class who can be assisted with effect," etc. With finely etched portrait on Japanese vellum paper.

RUSKIN (JOHN). A. L. S. 3 pp. 12mo, Denmark Hill, March 5, 1858. An interesting letter referring to art and books, and his own attempts at painting. After thanking the recipient [Richard Thompson] for a lecture on rural painting . . . (that) "contained much that I particularly wanted to know," he says: ". . . One thing I wanted mightily to know was the nature of that purple colour, which I have spent hours in vainly trying to imitate," etc. Then follows an account of an illuminated manuscript he owned, a portion of which he is sending in care of his father for inspection. With etched portrait on Japanese vellum paper.

ARNOLD (MATTHEW). A. L. S. 2 pp. 12mo, London, Oct. 13th, 1864, referring to his Essays, and to the Philistinism of the England of his day ". . . I cannot send you my photograph, for I give it to nobody, having none which is not detestible, but I send you my Essays on Middle Class Education," etc. With portrait.

MACAULAY (THOMAS BABINGTON, LORD). A. L. S. 1 p. 12mo, Lond., June 1, 1859. A letter to Lord John Russell (the eminent English statesman). With mention of Seward, the American statesman. With portrait.

WORDSWORTH (WILLIAM). A. L. S. 4 pp. 4to, Rydal Mount, Aug. 1st, 1826. A most interesting letter to his friend Edward Quillinan, Esq., Lee Priory, Kent, on a variety of subjects, and with mention of the death of Southey's daughter: ". . . . The worst does not relate to our own family, but to Southey who has just lost his youngest daughter, about 14 years of age, Isabel. She made a beautiful pair with her next sister, being somewhat taller," etc. With portrait.

TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). A. L. 1 p. 8vo, Haslemere, Surrey, to Thomas Wright, Cowper School, Olney: "Lord Tennyson presents his compliments to Mr. Wright and begs to thank him for his volume on Cowper, Sept. 24 (23) 1892." With the original addressed envelope.

* Special interest attached to this letter, as among the last that Tennyson wrote. He died on Oct. 6, 1892, and the book for which he thanks Mr. Wright ("The Town of Cowper") was almost the last book in his hands. With fine portrait (proof) by Hollyer.

BROWNING (ROBERT). A. L. S. 3 pp. 8vo, Lond., Dec. 20th, 1872, to Charles Kent (the friend and biographer of Dickens), with the original addressed envelope. A most interesting letter referring to his birth and marriage: ". . . I can only tell you that I believe the month was March, the place was certainly London; the day I never knew As to the second the marriage took place in Marylebone Church, Saturday, September 9, '46. I feel very deeply all your considerate delicacy I assure you," etc. With portrait.

SWINBURNE (ALGERNON CHARLES). A. L. S. 1 page, 8vo, Tamernil Bridge, July 15th [no year, ca. 1890], referring to his grandfather and also to his pamphlet ("A Word for the Navy"). ". . . Please send one of my pamphlets to Admiral Swinburne" . . . "I am anxious to see whatever may be said of it." With fine etched portrait (on India paper) by Hollyer.

ROSSETTI (DANTE GABRIEL). A. L. S. 1 p. 8vo, Chelsea, Jan. 5th, 1869, to his brother William, introducing Mr. Joseph Swan. With portrait.

SOUTHEY (ROBERT). A. L. S. 2 pp. 4to, Keswick, June 14th, 1804, written to his printer, Mr. Ballantyne, with reference to his poems. A very interesting letter, giving minute details regarding the printing of one of his poems, and asking for special typographical features. With portrait.

HUNT (LEIGH). A. L. S., "L. H." 5 pp. 12mo, Hamersmith, Dec. 19, 1853. A letter of especial interest, being written to Messrs. Ollier, the publishers of his and Charles Lamb's works, in which he mentions Charles Lamb and Palmerston . . who, he says, is " . . . Famous for these sudden jerks." With portrait.

D'ISRAELI (BENJAMIN). A. L. S. 2 pp. 12mo, House of Commons, April 23, in which the writer states that he has "no talent for improvisation." With portrait.

MULOCK (DINAH). A. L. S. 1 p. 12mo, June 11 (no year), about her most famous book "John Halifax, Gentleman." Written to her publisher. She says: "Pardon me reminding you that I shall be happy to receive the £20 as agreed upon with Messrs. Harper for 'John Halifax, Gentleman.'"

INGELOW (JEAN). A. L. S. 3 pp. 12mo, with reference to her writing an historical novel. With portrait.

BLACKMORE (R. D.). A. L. S. 3 pp. 12mo, Teddington, June 27th, 1879. A charming letter about his novel writing and personal matters.

HUGHES (THOMAS). A. L. S. 1 p. 12mo, Chester, June 15th, 1893. Of special interest, referring to his most famous work, "Tom Brown's School Days." "I wrote a note in answer to yours . . . but forgot to answer your impression that 'Tom Brown's School Days' is autobiographical. This is not the fact, as although most of the incidents really happened I was not the hero of them, and certainly never meant to paint my own portrait." bookcases from the library of the author. Folio, old calf (cracked).

*The extremely rare original edition of this important bibliographical treatise, one of the earliest published in French, and still valuable on account of its interesting accounts of French writers. No copy has ever been offered for sale in the Bulletin of Morgand. A notice of COLUMBUS AND HIS DISCOVERIES occurs on p. 548. From the library of the celebrated English litterateur THOMAS KILLIGREW, with his autograph on the title-page, and from the SUNDERLAND LIBRARY.

47. BIBLIOGRAPHY. Halkett (Samuel) and Laing (John). A Dictionary of the Anonymous and Pseudonymous Literature of Great Britain, including the Works of Foreigners, written in or translated into the English Language. 4 vols. thick royal 8vo, original cloth, uncut.

Edinburgh, 1882-1888

* FINE SET of the most complete work of its kind extant. Now VERY SCARCE WHEN COMPLETE, owing to the length of time consumed in its publication.

48. BIDPAI'S FABLES, ILLUSTRATED WITH WOODCUTS. Die Alten Weysen. Apophtegmata Sapientium. Der Alten Weisen exempel spruch mit vel wunder schönen Beyspielen und Figuren erleuchtet. 115 curious and fine woodcuts by HANS BALDUNG GRIEN. Folio, half calf.

Strassburg: Bartholomeus Grieninger, 1536

* AN EXTREMELY RARE EDITION of this celebrated book, a translation of the "Directorium Humanae Vitae" of John of Capua. The names found in the original Kalila and Dimma have been transformed (through the deficiencies of the Oriental alphabets) from Nushirvan to Anastres Tassri, and from Bidpai to Sendebär. The similarity of many of the stories to those in the "Seven Wise Masters," which is properly called the book of Sindabab, and this corruption of the name of Bidpai (which is easily accounted for in the transit from Arabic or Persian through Hebrew to Latin letters) has frequently caused the two books to be confounded.

Beautiful copy exhibited in the Bindings Exhibition of the BURLINGTON FINE ARTS CLUB, and previously in the famous CRAWFORD COLLECTION. IN BEAUTIFUL PRESERVATION. On fly-leaf a former owner has very neatly written a long description from Dibdin as to the editing by Ceporinus and as to the great scarcity of the book.

THREE EXCEEDINGLY FINE SPECIMENS BEARING THE ARMS OF JEAN BAPTISTE COLBERT, MARQUIS
DE SEIGNELAY.

50. BINDING. Josué, les Juges et Ruth, traduits en François, avec des explications tirées des saints pères et des auteurs ecclésiastiques (par M. de Sacy). 8vo, CONTEMPORARY FRENCH BINDING in red levant morocco, triple gilt line on sides, with the ARMS OF JEAN BAPTISTE COLBERT, MARQUIS DE SEIGNELAY, stamped in gold on the centre of both covers, AND HIS CROWNED MONOGRAMS IN THE CORNERS, richly gilt tooled back, with the same monogram between two snakes (arms of Colbert), repeated five times, gilt inside borders, gilt edges, probably by BOYER.

Paris, 1687

* Colbert not only was the greatest financier of his time, but also one of the greatest bibliophiles. His library, formed with the help of the learned Carcavi, was celebrated all over Europe, and all the learned men of the time esteemed it a great favor to be admitted into it. After his death the library was inherited by his grandson, Count de Seignelay, WHOSE AUTOGRAPH WILL BE FOUND ON THE TITLE-PAGE. BINDINGS WITH THE ARMS OF THIS GREAT BOOKLOVER AND FINANCIER ARE NOW VERY RARE, as the larger part of Colbert's collection was purchased by Louis XV. and went to enrich the King's Library. THIS SPECIMEN IS NOT ONLY IN UNUSUALLY FINE CONDITION, BUT IT IS ALSO A VERY UNCOMMON ONE on account of the form and size of the coat-of-arms, and of his monogram, WHICH IS HERE IN TWO SIZES.

[See Reproduction.]

51. BINDING. Les Nombres traduits en François, avec l'Explication du sens littéral et du sens spirituel tirée de saints pères et des auteurs ecclésiastiques (par M. de Sacy). 8vo, CONTEMPORARY FRENCH BINDING in full red levant morocco, gilt triple line on the sides, with the ARMS OF JEAN BAPTISTE COLBERT, MARQUIS DE SEIGNELAY, stamped in gold on the centre of both covers, richly gilt tooled back, with Colbert's crowned monogram between two snakes, repeated five times, gilt inside borders, gilt edges, probably by BOYER. In fine condition. Paris, 1688

* This binding is also uncommon on account of the monogram between the two snakes. On the title-page there is the autograph of the grandson of Colbert.

8, 1830, C. Bronte, 1830 May the 8''; Vol. IV, 8 leaves, signed at the end "July the 30, 1830, C. Bronte."

Commencing "The original of the Islanders was as follows: it was one cold night in December, we were all sitting round the fire and had been silent some time, and at last I said suppose we had each an Island of our own... Brawell chose the Isle of Whight (sic). We then chose who should live in our Islands, the chief of Brawell where John Bull, Astly Cooper, Leigh Hunt etc. Emily's Walter Scott, Mr. Lockhart, Johnny Lockhart etc. etc., Annie's Michael Luudlen, Lord Bentich, Henry Halford etc. and I chose Duke of Wellington," etc.

The four original volumes, together with the brown paper covers, ALL OF WHICH ARE LETTERED IN THE AUTOGRAPH OF THE AUTHORESS, have been separated into single sheets and neatly and most skillfully inlaid with a complete type-written transcript and portrait of Brontë, together with a chapter from Mrs. Gaskell's Life of Brontë, in which the preceding manuscript is mentioned.

The whole forming a 4to volume bound in full blue crushed levant morocco, with the title inlaid on white crushed levant, gilt top.

* ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT BRONTË MANUSCRIPTS EXTANT, HAVING BEEN PLANNED BY THE AUTHORESS WHEN SHE WAS ELEVEN YEARS OF AGE, AND WRITTEN WHEN SHE WAS THIRTEEN.

An interesting type-written original preface reads in part, as follows: "Mrs. Gaskell in her admirable life of Charlotte Brontë makes mention of a packet of manuscripts, tales, poems romances and dramas, written in childhood by the author of 'Jane Eyre.' An extract from the introduction to one of these precocious works 'The Tales of the Islanders' was copied by Mrs. Gaskell . . . (else) the whole of this remarkable little romance has hitherto remained unpublished. Planned when she was eleven years of age and written at the age of thirteen . . . without question one of the most remarkable pieces of literature in our language . . . (the manuscript being) sufficient to indicate the imaginative power, the wit, fluency and almost oriental wealth of description characterizing this romance by the little girl of thirteen years," etc.

* Robert Burton was born at Lindley, in Leicestershire, in 1576, and died at Oxford in 1640. "The Anatomy of Melancholy" has been constantly pillaged, sometimes imitated, never equalled. That his melancholy, or his conceit as an astrologer, induced him to shorten his life is doubtless mere legend, but it is said from his calculation he predicted that he would die on or about the above date, which, being exact, several of the students did not forbear to whisper among themselves that, rather than there should be a mistake in his calculation, he sent up his soul to heaven thro' a slip about his neck."—ATHEN, OXON.

106. COACHING. Edwards (J.). A Companion from London to Brighthelmston in Sussex, consisting of a Set of Topographical Maps from Actual Survey on a Scale of Two Inches to a Mile, with Ichnographical Plans of some of the principal Towns within the Circuit of the said Survey, Picturesque Views of Seats—a complete and comprehensive Description, Natural History, and Antiquities of all the Towns, Villages, Gentleman's Seats, etc., on the Road—from LONDON TO BRIGHTHELMSTON, and an Account of the Inns where Post-Chaises and Post-Horses are kept, Stage Coaches, Stage Waggons, with their usual Hours of passing to and from London, etc., etc. With a series of maps showing the different sections and views of the places of interest on the road. Royal 4to, newly and beautifully bound in full green crushed levant morocco, with a large device of a coach and four with passengers, within a large diamond ornament on both sides, back tooled with sporting devices, ornate inside borders, gilt top, edges scraped, bound by BAYNTUN of Bath, Eng. Lond. 1801

* A VERY FINE COPY OF ONE OF THE RAREST OF COACHING BOOKS. It is a complete account of everything pertaining to perhaps the most famous coach road in Great Britain, that of the Brighton Road. Mr. Harper, the author of several delightful books on coaching, has devoted one complete volume to the road, in which he gives many interesting particulars. The above, however, was published at a time when travel was of necessity by coach, and presents as fascinating a picture as could be imagined.

Brighton, originally Brighthelmston, plainly derives its name from some Saxon Brighthelm, but his identity has never been discovered. Its present form came into use at the end of the eighteenth century, but it is sometimes found on documents at the time of Charles the Second.

The volume is enclosed in a cloth case.

107. COACHING PRINTS IN COLOR. Svo, colored, surface measures $5\frac{1}{4} \times 7$ inches, each with oak frames, mounts and glazed. In frames, measures $10\frac{1}{4} \times 9$ inches. [circa 1849]

* While no name of the artist appears, they are excellent examples, and, until three or four years ago, were in the collection at Walton Hall, England.

A COLERIDGE LETTER OF THE HIGHEST INTEREST, WITH MENTION OF CHARLES AND MARY LAMB, SCOTT, WORDSWORTH, SOUTHEY, ETC.

110. COLERIDGE (SAMUEL TAYLOR). A. L. S. 8 pp. 4to, Gra Highgate, Sept. 14th, 1828. Addressed to ALARIC WATTS (poet-journalist, and author of "Lyrics of the Heart," etc.). A LETTER OF THE HIGHEST ASSOCIATION INTEREST, mainly concerning the writer's publications and commencing

"My dear Sir:

Your Wish shall at all events be complied with—whether my suspicion be well or ill grounded, that you have not yet received (what yet to the best of my recollection) I left at your own door, two letter sheets of Verses. The first a pretended Fragment of Lee, the Tragic Poet, containing a description of Limbo, and a wording to my own fancy containing some of the most forcible lines and with the most original imagery that my niggard Muse ever made me a present of—for to compare one's own with ones honor, is I trust no offence against Humility and may stand free of the Adage that comparisons are odious. I likewise explained to you, on what manner by false and lying pretenses, that the Edition of my Poems so many years pretendedly in hand was only stopped thro' a miscalculation on the quantity," also complaining of the advantage taken of him by his publishers.

Coleridge refers to his friendship with WORDSWORTH, AND ALSO MAKES INTERESTING MENTION OF SCOTT, SOUTHEY, KEATS, MOORE AND CHARLES AND MARY LAMB. In asking for a reply the writer says . . . "I am engaged to pay my long delayed visit to my dear friends CHARLES AND MARY LAMB at Enfield and shall probably not return before Wednesday night or Thursday morning or I would come to town. If therefore you write by to-morrow's post directing CHARLES LAMB, Esq. Enfield Chace, next house to the Phoenix Fire Office for S. T. C. I shall receive it there, or I should be very happy to see you here," etc.

* ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT AND INTERESTING COLERIDGE LETTERS EXTANT.

111. COLONIAL POSTAL SERVICE. BROADSIDE. Instructions given by Benjamin Franklin and William Hunter, Esqs., His Majesty's Deputy Post-Masters General of all his Dominions on the Continent of North America, to *Mr. Thos. Franklin?] Large folio (slightly torn at folds), UNCUT.

[Phila.: B. FRANKLIN AND D. HALL, ca. 1753?]

* Complete and detailed instructions to Post-Masters, Stage-Drivers, Post-Riders, etc.

He opened the mail-bags to newspapers by whomsoever printed, cut down the postage, shortened the routes, reduced the time between offices, and for the first time advertised unclaimed letters in the newspapers.

VOL. XII.

What! arm'd for virtue when I point the pen,
Brand the bold front of shameless guilty men,
Lash the proud gamester in his gilded car,
Bare the mean heart that lurks beneath a star;
Can there be wanting to defend her cause,
Rights of the church, or guardians of the laws?
Could pension'd Boileau lash in honest strain,
Follies and vices, e'en in Lewis' reign,
Could Laureat Dryden pimp and friar engage,
And neither Charles nor James be in a rage,
And I not strip the gilding of a knave,
Unplac'd, unpension'd, no man's tool or slave!
I will, or perish in the generous cause,
HEAR THIS, AND TREMBLE, YE WHO'SCAPE THE LAWS.

132. [CRUIKSHANK (GEORGE).] The Tour of Dr. Prosody in Search of the Antique and Picturesque through Scotland, the Hebrides, the Orkney and Shetland Islands. FIRST EDN. Royal 8vo. Lond. 1821

* This, we believe, is the first time in this country that this work has been catalogued WITH CERTAINTY as a GEORGE CRUIKSHANK ITEM. The FRONTISPIECE IS BY GEORGE CRUIKSHANK, the fact having recently been established beyond doubt by the sale of a copy in London, in which this plate is SIGNED IN HIS AUTOGRAPH "George Cruikshank, del." See cutting in book.

The work has long been attributed to George Cruikshank, but proof has been wanting until now.

UNUSUALLY TALL COPY, with brilliant impressions of the 19 RICHLY-COLORED PLATES by C. Williams [AND WITH FRONTISPIECE BY GEORGE CRUIKSHANK], in the manner of Thomas Rowlandson. Bound (probably by CHARLES LEWIS) in full green straight grained morocco, ornate borders on sides, full gilt back and edges.

(A Series of 24 FINELY COLORED PLATES, depicting the various phases of life and times in the early part of the XVIII Century, and including "A Card Party," "A Steam Packet Cabin," "Honour" (a duel), "Comforts of a Wife," "The Pleasures of Angling," "The Englishman in France," etc., etc.) THE RARE FIRST EDN. LARGE PAPER COPY OF CAREY'S LIFE IN PARIS.

134. CRUIKSHANK (GEORGE). Life in Paris; comprising the Rambles, Sprees and Amours of Dick Wildfire, of Corinthian celebrity, and of his Bang-Up companions Squire Jenkins and Captain O'Shuffleton, with the Whimsical Adventures of the Halibut Family, including Sketches of a variety of eccentric Characters in the French Metropolis. Lond. 1822

* A MAGNIFICENT COPY OF THE EXTREMELY RARE LARGE PAPER EDITION, IN THE MOST DESIRABLE OF COLLECTOR'S CONDITION. BUT FEW COPIES ON LARGE PAPER HAVE BEEN OFFERED FOR SALE IN THIS COUNTRY, AND SO FAR AS RECORDS SHOW THIS IS THE FIRST COPY IN THIS EXCEPTIONAL STATE TO BE OFFERED.

It is one of the rarest of the Cruikshank books, the plates being very spirited and true, a really extraordinary fact, considering that the artist's continental experiences were limited to ONE DAY spent at Boulogne.

135. CRUIKSHANK (GEORGE). The 8vo edition of "Life in Paris." With spirited plates in COLOR by George Cruikshank. 8vo, full polished calf, extra, gilt edges.

Lond. 1822

* PARTICULARLY FINE COPY, WITH BRILLIANT COLORED PLATES, THE VERY RARE LEAF AT THE END "TO THE BINDER" (lacking in most copies) and the half-title.

THE EXCESSIVELY RARE FIRST EDITION OF GRIMM'S
POPULAR STORIES ILLUSTRATED BY CRUIKSHANK,
IN THE ORIGINAL BOARDS, UNCUT.

136. CRUIKSHANK (GEORGE). GERMAN POPULAR STORIES. Translated from the Kinder und Hans Märchen. Collected by M.M. Grimm, from Oral Tradition. WITH THE EXQUISITELY ETCHED PLATES BY GEORGE CRUIKSHANK. 2 vols. post 8vo. Vol. 1 ORIGINAL ILLUSTRATED BOARDS, and Vol. 2 IN BOARDS, CLOTH BACK-PAPER LABEL, BOTH AS ISSUED, AND TOTALLY UNCUT. Lond.: C. Baldwyn, 1823, J. Robins, 1826

* THE EXCESSIVELY RARE FIRST EDITION, AND IN MOST DESIRABLE COLLECTOR'S CONDITION, OF WHICH FEW COPIES ARE KNOWN. This is one of the most difficult of Cruikshank's books to procure in fine state, owing mainly to the immense popularity of the work with the young people of the period. A very small number of the earliest state of the title to series I occur without the two dots over the word "Märchen," but mainly they occur printed "Märchen." The above is one of the latter, and with this minor exception is

as the following points will prove:

The title to the second story (page 9) is "Travelling Musicians" in the first issue; "The Travelling Musicians, or the Waits of Bremen" in the second. The title on page 81 is "The Wonderful Musician" in the first issue, "The Waggish Musician" in the second. The title on page 118 is differently set. In the first issue there are two lines in capitals and two lines in Italics. In the second issue there are three lines in capitals and only one in Italics.

There is a list of plates headed "Directions to the Binder" on page (218) in the first issue. In the second issue this page is blank. In the "Notes" the note to page VII is on page 240 in the first issue. It has been transferred to the beginning (page 219) in the second issue.

The verse in the first issue on page 240 reads:

"Bless you, bless you, Burnie-bee
Tell me where your wedding be."

In the second issue it reads:

"Bless you, bless you, Burnie-bee
Tell me when your wedding be."

Volume 2 has the advertisements at the FRONT (which only occur in a few copies of the very earliest issue of the first edition), and also at the end a leaf of advertisements of "Books printed for Longman, Hurst, Rees, Orme, Brown and Green"

165. DICKENS (CHARLES). SKETCHES BY BOZ, illustrative of Everyday Life and Everyday People. 40 fine plates, drawn and etched by George Cruikshank. FIRST OCTAVO EDN. WITH AN INSERTED ORIGINAL WATER-COLOR drawing, NEVER USED, BY GEORGE CRUIKSHANK (signed), furnishing an extra illustration to the sketch entitled "Horatio Sparkins," and an equally appropriate and desirable AUTOGRAPH LETTER FROM DICKENS to Mr. Harvard, foreman in the printing office of Whiting, who printed the book for Chapman & Hall. Thick 8vo, handsomely bound in full green crushed levant morocco extra, gilt top, with the cloth covers and back bound in, by RIVIERE, and protected in a lined case with back of binding visible. Lond. 1839

* There could not be a more interesting copy for the collector than the present, as the book itself is in the finest state, and the two most valuable additions particularly recommend themselves by being both directly connected with the volume.

The drawing, which is signed, illustrates the paragraph on page 383: "I shall be most happy, simpered the interesting Teresa at last, and Horatio's countenance brightened up," etc.

Dickens' letter is a very fine and early specimen. 2 pp. 8vo, with the address on page 4 dated "Furnival's Inn, Wednesday Evening," and by its contents EVIDENTLY REFERS TO THE CONCLUDING SKETCH IN "Sketches by Boz."

The writer says:

"My Dear Sir:—

The little tale I am on is a very good one (I think). I have taken great pains with it, as I wished to finish the volume with eclat. And to proceed with the estimate of the amount of matter it will make. He could send it off now, but wishes to read it, and the preface over again 'coolly.'" Writes to see the proof of this sketch. "I will not detain it one hour. The messenger who brings it, may wait while I correct it."

The concluding sketch, or Chapter XII, occupies 12 pages in the volume; it is entitled "The Drunkard's Death," a powerful and tragic story, ending very much in the manner of his narrative of the death of Quilp in the "Old Curiosity Shop."

With all the author's care in correction, he allowed an error to pass in the line sixth before last, where the two words—"reeled before," are run together into one word.

A LONG AND VERY INTERESTING DICKENS LETTER TO MARTIN TUPPER MAINLY ABOUT AMERICA.

184. DICKENS (CHARLES). A. L. S. 6 pages, 8vo, to MARTIN TUPPER, author of "Proverbial Philosophy," as follows:

Brighton, Nineteenth March, 1850.

My dear Sir:

I am extremely gratified by the terms in which you address me. Your letter is most welcome to me, and has given me the utmost pleasure. How, as a reader of yours, (though I could wish you had given me more to do) have all kinds of interesting associations with you. And hence the uncommon satisfaction I have in your genial consideration of me.

I shall not remain here many days longer, and shall be delighted to see you in town if you propose a time that will suit your convenience. My engagements (of business) are so very numerous just now that I fear I am not at all likely to make a burst with your part of the country, yet awhile.

When I went to America, I did not take my children, though I took my wife. We had not an amazing Caravan then, as we have now, but I left them at home.

I am perfectly acquainted however, as you may suppose, with every kind of accomodation and want of accomodation in travelling all over the States, as well as on the voyage. I will take the last first.

Most decidedly, no steamer will take you for anything like the money you name. And I have not the shadow of a shade of a doubt—as Brougham says—that you ought to go in a liner, i.e., a packet ship. There is infinitely more room; you can make room, by knocking two state rooms into one (as I did coming home); you can contract for your whole family without difficulty, for about half a steamer's charges; the motion is incomparably easier; the interest of the passage much greater; you might even take the whole of the Ladies' Cabin, and be in a perfect house of your own. Against these advantages, you have merely to set a longer passage, but I apprehend time to be less important to you than comfort; and the sea-sickness once over (mind! you would not be half so sick in an airy, skimming ship, as in a mad plunging Sea-Bull of a Steamer, bent on rushing head first at every demonical obstacle that is to be found in the Atlantic, and going through the water, instead of over it) another week or two is a mere luxurious idleness). I expect to see the Captain of the finest Packet ship in this trade, on Sunday next. I will sound him closely about all the ships; knowing him to be one of the most honest and skilful mariners in the world. The result of our discourse shall be yours when you please.

If you have two servants accustomed to children, on whom you can thoroughly depend, I would recommend you to take them. An American help is a tremendous misnomer, even in an American case. But in an English case!—I should say Mrs. Tupper would go mad in a month.

There would be a Cow (I mean this for C. O. W.) aboard the ship. The steward would tell you in consultation, whether you would require with that milk-consuming band, any tins besides.

The children would be as hearty aboard ship as under any circumstances in the world. Few packet ships carry surgeons. Take a Medicine chest. Surgeons in the steamers.

I cannot think of any place in America where I would like to leave children, they being strangers to the air and soil, so well as at Boston or in the neighborhood of Boston, or at or near Hartford, in Connecticut. In the latter place, they would be more in your way (I don't mean as circumstances) when you are travelling about, than in the former. But if I contemplated such a move, I should almost be inclined to leave mine in Canada at Kingston or Montreal—among the Americans—more simple-hearted and good natured than almost any I know but it would be an extraordinarily strange thing to a lady, to find herself alone for months together, in a little American town. Boston always excepted. And supposing you sailed to New York, you would very easily take them there. New York would not do—much too feverish.

I shall be very happy to give you any amount of details you may ask me for. Generally, this is what now occurs to me in answer to your questions. I believe I am quite "up" in the subject in all its branches. Either to Boston or to Canada, I could give you letters that would help to make Mrs. Tupper happy and at home.

Believe me,

My dear Sir,

Very faithfully,

CHARLES DICKENS.

Martin Farquhar Tupper Esquire."

185. DICKENS (CHARLES). Dickens Playbill. An ORIGINAL PLAY BILL of the Performance by the celebrated Amateur Company under the direction of Charles Dickens (the local arrangements under Dr. Sheridan Muspratt), of Lytton's "NOT SO BAD AS WE SEEM," at the PHILHARMONIC HALL, LIVERPOOL, Feb. 14th, 1852, the caste including C. Dickens, Dudley Costello, Wilkie Collins (in the absence of Douglas Jerrold), Mark Lemon, F. W. Topham, Peter Cunningham, John Tenniel, Augustus Egg, Miss Fanny Young, etc.; to be followed by an Original Farce entitled "MR. NIGHTINGALE'S DIARY," the caste including Dudley Costello, C. Dickens, Aug. Egg, Mark Lemon, Wilkie Collins, etc.; A PLAYBILL of the Royal Adelphi Theatre, St. Helens, Oct. 2, 1850, for the performance of "Annihilation! or Death to the Snobs."—A Play-bill of the Theatre Royal, Wigan, Monday, Apr. 16, 1855, for the performance of "The Hypocrite"—in 1 vol., with a large collection of miscellaneous newspaper cuttings, sketches by SEYMOUR, JOHN LEECH, etc., Curious Advertisements, etc., etc. Folio, contemporary half binding. VERY SCARCE. 1852, etc.

* C. Dickens organized his celebrated Amateur company for the encouragement of Life Assurance and other Provident habits among Authors and Artists; and among a series of Autograph Letters sold in London in March, 1902, there were two which have reference to the above interesting performance. In the letter referred to, Dickens writes graphically describing his fellow actors: "Jerrold and myself you have heard of. Mr. Egg is an artist of high reputation. Mr. Costello is a periodical writer. Mr. Mark Lemon is a dramatic author, and the editor of 'Punch,'" etc., etc. It is a most interesting and valuable souvenir of the great novelist and one which would be almost, if not quite, impossible to be met with again.

The other two playbills mentioned are interesting as early provincial ones.

*The autographs, alone, of Ruskin, Cobden, Livingstone, John Bright and Lord Brougham, should mark this item for particular attention. As to the text, to quote an English notice: "It is a work possessing infinitely more human interest than narrations of the public lives of great men, since it illustrates the traits of character upon which the more open actions are founded."

203. EARLY AMERICAN MAP. Mitchell (John). A Map of the British and French Dominions in NORTH AMERICA, with the Roads, Distances, Limits and Extent of the Settlements. Finely colored, and with emblematic illusts. of American Indians, a shore view, the products of the country, etc. The two sections, North and South (Labrador and Hudson's Bay to Florida and the Gulf of Mexico—the East and West boundaries being Newfoundland and a point a little west of the Mississippi River). One of the most useful publications to the student or collector of Early English Literature ever published, giving, as it does, much information regarding bibliographical "points" of the more famous writings of Wither, Walton, Taylor, Cowley, Cleveland, Brathwaite, Drummond, D'Avenant, and many others (original editions of which are becoming rarer) that is not to be found elsewhere. Fine copy. Venetijs: Erhard Ratdolt, 1483

* Gothic Character. 94 unnumb. leaves, 41 lines to the page; signature a-m. Hain, 868; Proctor, 4389; Brunet I, 99; Pellechet, 557; Redgrave, 34. THE RARE FIRST EDITION OF THE FAMOUS ALPHONSINE TABLES, which are the chief work of interest issued by Ratdolt in 1483. The Astronomical Tables, which bears the name of King Alfonso and were probably constructed by Moorish astronomers invited to his Court for that purpose, were celebrated for a long time. His astronomical works have been published in several volumes by order of the Spanish Government, edited by Manuel Rico y Sinobas (1864, etc.).

Early Printed Books, many being from Celebrated Presses, and some of extreme rarity.

207. ANDREÆ (JOHANNES). Lectura super arboribus consanguinitatis, affinitatis et cognationis spiritualis. 2 full-page xylographies representing the trees of consanguinity and affinity (both slightly cut into), and elegant initials painted in blue and red. Folio, new boards.

208. ANDREÆ (JOHANNES). Lectura super arboribus consanguinitatis, affinitatis et cognationis spiritualis. 2 full-page xylographies representing the trees of consanguinity and affinity, and with initials painted in red. Folio, new boards.

* Gothic character. 10 unnumbered leaves, without signatures and catchwords; 36 lines to the page. Hain-Copinger, 1027; Pellechet, 642; Proctor, 2164, type 1. A very fine and large copy of this exceedingly rare book, one of the first from Creussner's press.

209. APPIANUS ALEXANDRINUS. De Bellis Civilibus Romanorum, ex translatione P. Candidi. Printer's mark at the end. Folio, half vellum.

Scandiano: Pellegrino Pasquali, 1495

* Roman character. 80 unnumbered ll., including last blank; signat. A-N. Hain-Copinger, 1310; Copinger III, p. 240; Proctor, 7325; Hawkins, Earliest Press, p. 52, plate 19. FIRST BOOK PRINTED AT SCANDIANO, a borough of the Province of Reggio Emilia, Italy. This forms the second part of Pier Candido Decembrio's translation of "De Bellis Civilibus," of which the first was printed at Reggio by Francesco Mazali in 1494. This second part is far rarer than the first, printed at Reggio. Camillo Boiardo, son of Matteo Maria Boiardo, Lord of Scandiano and celebrated author of the "Orlando Innamorato," was the promoter of the art of printing in his fief. Fine and large copy of this extremely rare book.

210. APPIANUS ALEXANDRINUS. Opera Omnia. Title within a fine architectural woodcut border, numerous woodcut ornamental initials, and beautiful symbolical printer's mark at the end. 4to, contemporary stamped pigskin (loose in binding, otherwise very fine copy). Impressum Moguntiae: in ædibus Ioannis Schoeffer, a cuius avo calco-graphice olim in urbe Moguntiaca primum inventa exercitaque est, 1529.

* A very interesting book on account of the Colophon. John Schoeffer says in it that his grandfather (John Fust) was the first to invent and to exercise the art of printing in Mainz. A rare book. Würdtwen, "Bibliotheca Moguntina," p. 158.

211. BALTHASAR. Expositio Mysteriorum Missæ, Christi passionem devotissime figurantium, metrice atque prosaice posita. Gothic character; 28 unnumb. leaves; signat. a-e. 4to, new boards. Fine architectural and ornamental title-page, engraved on wood, with a full-length figure of St. John the Baptist in the middle, 3 large woodcuts representing respectively the work of the creation in six compartments, King Solomon in his bedroom, and the Adoration of the Shepherds; over 170 small woodcuts, pretty ornamental initials, and the Canon of Eusebius arranged within columns and printed in red.* Folio, old calf (some very small worm-holes, otherwise a very good copy).

Lugduni: Jacobus Sacon, 1518

* A very rare and esteemed edition of the Bible. The 3 large woodcuts are probably the work of Jean Bourdichon; the small ones were in part executed after those of the celebrated Malhermi Bible, and in part engraved by Hans Springinklee.

EARLY TREATISE ON ECONOMICS.

213. BIEL (GABRIEL). *Tractatus de potestate monetarum. * Roman character, 8 unnumb. ll; 35 lines to the page; signatures a-b. Hain, 3188 (?). Apparently the only copy known of this curious treatise on economics and exchange.

214. CHRYSOSTOMUS (JOHANNES). Sermones XXV. e graeco lat. versi a Christoph. Persona. 4to, old calf, backed in red morocco. Bononiae: B. Azzoguigi, 1475

* Roman character. 110 unnumbered leaves (including last blank), without signatures or catchwords, 27 lines to the page, Hain-Copinger, 5043; Proctor, 6519. Initial letters illuminated by a modern hand. Fine copy of this rare book.

* Gothic character. 8 unnumbered leaves without signatures and catchwords, including last blank, 35 lines to the page. PRINTED WITH THE SAME TYPE AND AT THE SAME TIME AS THE FIRST EDITION OF THE IMITATION OF CHRIST. Hain, 7723-8589 (ff. 207-213); Copinger III, p. 263; Proctor, 1569; Brunet II, 806; Graese II, 422. THE EXTREMELY RARE FIRST EDITION of this Donatus. Edited by the famous Chancellor John Gerson, and apparently the first and only complete copy that has appeared for sale in this country. Although hundreds of editions of the Donatus have been issued since the invention of printing down to the end of the 15th Century, however, they are numbered among the rarest books in existence, because they were destroyed by the continual use children made of them, for whom these Latin Grammars, used in the schools during the Middle Ages, were printed. And so rare, in fact, are they that fragments also command very high prices.

217. EXPOSITIO HYMNORUM cum notabili commento. Gothic character of two sizes: 1 unnumb. l., lxxvi numb. and 1 unnumb.; signat. A-M. "Accipies" woodcut beneath the title representing a teacher with two pupils. 4to, new boards. Hain, 6784; Proctor, 1309. With some small worm-holes and upper part of title skilfully mended.

* The woodcut on the title is one of the celebrated series known as the "Accipies" woodcut, which formed the subject of a monograph by the late Robert Proctor. See Bibliographica, I, pp. 52-63. This variety is distinguished as cut Ai.

218. FELICIANUS (F.). Ordinis Prædicatorum. Tractatus de divina predestinatione. Gothic char. 15 unnumb. leaves and 1 blank; 34 lin. to the page. Woodcut beneath the title, symbolical of the free thought, probably printed from a very early block, and initial painted in red. 4to, new boards. Hain, 6954; Proctor, 2429. Rare.

[Speier: Conrad Hist] 1495

218*. HYGINUS. POETICON ASTRONOMICON LIBER. Fol. 1 blank; fol. 2 r.: Clarissimi Uiri Iginii Poeticon Astronomicon | opus vtilissimū foeliciter Incipit. | De Mundi z spheræ ac vtriusque partium declaratiōe | Liber. Venetiis. Fol. 58 v. blank. With 47 curious woodcuts representing the constellations, 3 large and numerous small fine ornamental and floral initials on background. 4to, half vellum. Venetiis: Erhard Ratdolt, 1482

* Gothic character, 58 unnumbered leaves, 31 lines to the page, signature a-g. Hain, 9062; Proctor, 4387; Redgrave, 30. FIRST ILLUSTRATED EDITION AND ONE OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL EXAMPLES OF RATDOLT'S CELEBRATED PRESS. This book comprises a "remarkable series of woodcuts, forty-seven in all, AMONG THEM THE EARLIEST KNOWN REPRESENTATIONS OF THE CONSTELLATIONS AND REDUCED FIGURES OF THE PLANETS, taken from the German ' Planeten-Buch ' of 1468." Redgrave (Erhard Ratdolt and his Work at Venice, pp. 17-18), from whom we quote the above words, gives a facsimile of a page of this book with the singular figure of Orion in armor, and says that "there is a vigour and quaintness about these woodcuts which merit recognition." To this work are appended some Latin verses by I. Sentinus and I. Santritter, of Heilbronn, who assisted Ratdolt in its preparation. Santritter was not only an author and a poet, but also a brother printer. He is sometimes spoken of as "de fonte salutis," a Latinized form of Heilbronn. He appears to have been a learned mathematician, and his skill in astronomy was invoked by Ratdolt in this and perhaps in other publications. He is said by Dr. Falkenstein to have taken Ratdolt's place as a mathematical printer, after he left Venice, and to have carried on the work for which Ratdolt had made himself so famous. A VERY FINE AND PERFECT COPY OF THIS RARE BOOK.

219. HORATIUS. Opera cum commentario Christophori Landini.—[Colophon] Christophori landini florentini in Q. Hora | tii flacci opera omnia interpretatio | num finis diuino auxilio felix. | Impressum per Antonium miscominum flo | rentiæ Anno salutis. M.CCCCLXXXII. | Nonis augusti. With several initial letters painted in red. Small folio, half vellum. Florence: Antonio Miscomini, 1482

* Roman character. 6 unnumbered leaves, CCLXIII numbered and 2 unnumbered, without signatures or catchwords. Hain-Copinger, 8881; Proctor, 6142. FIRST EDITION OF HORACE WITH THE CELEBRATED COMMENTARY OF LANDINO. A very fine and large copy, probably the largest in existence, and one of the most beautiful specimens of typography of the 15th Century, from the celebrated Press of Miscomini. The book has on its large margins numerous interesting philological and critical notes by two different hands of the XVth century, which are certainly the work of two learned humanists. At the end there is a very interesting CONTEMPORARY MANUSCRIPT TABLE FOR THE FINDING EASTER. The value of this book is enhanced by having been once in the LIBRARY OF WILLIAM MORRIS, the founder of the Kelmscott Press, who probably used it as an example for designing his golden type: a slip in his autograph, describing the book, is inserted at the beginning.

THIS EXTREMELY RARE EDITION IS ONE OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL AND CORRECT OF PLINY'S CELEBRATED NATURAL HISTORY, and is at the same time not only one of the finest specimens from the first press of Manzolo, but ranks also in point of beauty with the most notable examples of the Italian press of the XVth Century. The margins of several leaves are filled with notes by the hand of a contemporary Italian scholar.

THE EXTREMELY RARE ORIGINAL EDITION OF A BOOK VERY IMPORTANT FOR THE HISTORY OF WOOD ENGRAVING IN SWITZERLAND AND ESPECIALLY IN BASLE, as the engravings here contained are very fine examples of the style that prevailed in that city before the influence of Holbein (see "Catalogue raisonné des livres de la Bibliothèque de M. Ambroise Firmin-Didot," No. 254). This work was reprinted by Furter in the year 1497."

227. SABELLICUS (M. A.). Rerum Venetarum ab Urbe Condita Decades. Folio, vellum (loose).

Venetii: Andreas de Torresanis de Asula, 1487

* Roman character. 240 unnumb. leaves; 48 lines to the page. Hain-Copinger, 14053; Proctor, 4713; Brunet, V. 6. EDITIO PRINCEPS, very rare, of the most ancient official chronicle of Venice, and a masterpiece of the Venetian printing art, executed by Andrea Torresano, the father-in-law of Aldus, with Jenson's characters. This work is also very interesting for its references to the history of the typographical art in Italy. Sabellico never gives dates, but in describing the prosperous conditions of Venice at the accession of Pasqual Malipiero (elected Doge in 1456, died 1463), he proceeds to say: "Ad hanc et alias illius principatus foelicitates accessit quod librorum imprimendorum ratio tum primum est in Italia reperta; Commentum ipse Germani hominis creditur sed quum tota Italia, procedente tempore, divini operis officinæ constitutæ sint, sitque aperta æmulatione inter opifices diligentia et ingenio certatum, Nicolaus Jenson quem Veneta civitas sortita est omnes alios in eogenere landis post se procul reliquit." The next sentence tells of the death of Malipiero; consequently, it must have been Sabellico's belief that this invention of a German was introduced in Italy before 1462. With numerous marginal notes by a contemporary hand. Some light water-stains, otherwise a large and sound copy, WITH THE TWO LEAVES OF ERRATA, which were printed after the main part of the edition was already in circulation. Copies with the Errata are so rare that Ebert, Brunet, and other authorities in the bibliographical field believed a copy complete without it.

Caii Svetonii vita per Sabellicum. Cum commento eiusdem Philippi Beroaldi vita per Bartholomeum Blanchinum. A very curious wood- cut on the title, representing a Cæsarian operation, repeated at the beginning of the text, 38 very fine outline woodcuts by the masters b and F, 35 in the style of those by Giovan Andrea, and numerous pretty large and small ornamental initials, several on blackground. Folio, contemporary limp vellum. Some leaves slightly water-stained, otherwise a fine and sound copy.

Venetiis: Philippus Pincius Mantuanus, 1510

* AN EXTREMELY RARE EDITION, AND AT THE SAME TIME A VERY IMPORTANT BOOK FOR THE HISTORY OF THE ART OF WOOD ENGRAVING IN ITALY, ABOUT THE END OF THE XVTH CENTURY, on account of its beautiful Venetian outline woodcuts, which were printed from the same blocks used for the illustrations of the Mallermi Bible of 1490, of the famous Boccaccio of 1492, and of the Italian Livy of 1493.

The woodcuts with the monogram "b" have been attributed to Mantegna, "Bellini," Botticelli, and even to Raphael. But, according to Lippmann (Wood-engraving in Italy in the XVth Century), the assignment to Bellini comes nearest to the truth, in so far that the POLIPHILLO master belongs to the Bellini school. The Venetian origin of the book, and the signature "b" which appears on two of the cuts of the Poliphilo, seem to indicate Bellini. The woodcuts signed "b" in the Mallermi Bible, if compared with those of the Poliphilo, it will be found to have the same principle of design, in clear, fine outlines, with or without slight edge shading. Moreover, they all exhibit the same type of composition, and the same style of drawing the human form. THE WOODCUT ON THE TITLE-PAGE IS THE EARLIEST REPRESENTATION OF THE CÆSARIAN OPERATION.

230. TEXTUS sequentiarum cum expositione lucida ac facili. Woodcut beneath the title representing the adoration of the Magi, another woodcut on the back of the title, representing the infant Saviour within the symbols of the four evangelists, and a fine woodcut floral initial. 4to, contemporary binding in wooden boards, and three-quarters calf with blind toolings (neatly rebacked). Some light water-stains, and title slightly soiled. [n. p., n. d., c. 1505]

* Gothic character. cxxii unnumb. ll. and 10 unnumb. Hain, 14685. According to Proctor and Copinger, it was printed at the beginning of the XVIth Century. Rare.

231. VOCABULARIUS POETICUS. Fol. 1 r.: Vocabularius poeti | cus Siue Elucidari | us Carminum et Historiarum, continens fabulas. | Historias Prouincias Urbes Insulas Fluuio et | Montes illustres et cetera. | Curious woodcut beneath the title representing the Saviour. Fol. 39 v., col. 1.: Impressum Co | lonie apud predi | catores. 4to, new boards. Very fine copy.

ing. Rare.

In the same book it is stated that when Major-General Daniel Gookin, Judge John Eliot's maternal grandfather, applied to Harvard College in 1682 for a scholarship for John Eliot, 3d, he wrote: "His father left him but small matters (except his bookes) of outward things in order to bring him up to learning, which was his last desire at his death."

301. HAKLUYT'S VOYAGES. The Principal Navigations, Voyages, Traffiques and Discoveries of the English Nation, made by Sea or Overland, to the remote and farthest distant quarters of the Earth, at any time within the compasse of these 1600 yeares. . . . By Richard Hakluyt. 3 vols. in 2 vols. folio, old marbled calf (bindings rebacked; a portion of the lower part of title of Vol. 3 torn, with damage to the imprint; last leaf of the same volume supplied in manuscript, and few leaves water-stained, otherwise a sound copy). Lond.: George Bishop, Ralfe Newberie & Robert Barker, 1599-99-1600.

* WITH THE EXTREMELY RARE SEVEN SUPPRESSED LEAVES OF THE VOYAGE TO CADIZ IN 1596 (pp. 607-619 of Vol. I.). It is an unusual feature to find the Voyage to Cadiz inserted, as it does not really belong to the 1599 issue of Vol. I. On the title-page of the 1598 issue of Vol. I, the Cadiz voyage was announced, but the leaves containing it were suppressed by authority. In the issue of 1599, it was not intended to appear, and all mention of it is omitted from the title.

THE True and perfect De- scription of three Voyages, so strange and woonderfull, that the like hath neuer been heard of before :

Done and performed three yeares, one after the other, by the Ships of

Tartaria, towards the Kingdomes of Cathaia & China; shewing the discouerie of the Straights of Weigates, Noua Zembla, thought to be Greenland: where neuer any man had bin before : with the cruell Beares, and other Monsters of the Sea, and the vn-portable and extreame cold that is found to be in those places.

And how that in the last Voyage, the Shippe was so inclosed by the Ice, that it was left there, whereby the men were forced to build a house in the cold and desart Countrie of Noua Zembla, wherein they continued 10. monthes together, and neuer saw nor heard of any man, in most great cold and extreame miserie; and how after that, to saue their liues, they were constrained to sayle aboue 350. Dutch-miles, which is aboue 1000. miles English, in litle open Boates, along and ouer the maine Seas in most great daunger, and with extreame labour, vnspeakable troubles, and great hunger.

CONFIDENTIAL WAR LETTER FROM GEN. HALLECK TO
GEN. GRANT, 1864.

304. HALLECK (H. W.—General-in-Chief of the Union Armies, 1862). Valuable and important War Letter to Gen. Grant, who succeeded him as General-in-Chief, on the existing state of affairs in the various Union Armies. "I fully concur with you in regard to the present condition of affairs in East Tennessee. It certainly is very much to be regretted that the Fatal mistake of General Burnside has permitted Longstreet's army to winter in Tenn. It is due to yourself that a full report of this matter should be placed on file so that the responsibility may rest where it properly belongs . . . you suggest whether it might not be well not to attempt anything more against Richmond and to send a column of 60,000 men into N. Carolina I have never considered Richmond as the necessary objective point of the Army of the Potomac; that point in LEE'S ARMY. I have never supposed that Richmond could be taken till his army was defeated or driven away. It was one of Napoleon's Maxims that an Army covering a Capital must be destroyed before attempting to capture or occupy that Capital. And now how can we best defeat Lee's army? by attacking it between here and Richmond on our shortest line of Supplies and in such a position that we can combine our whole force, or by a longer line and with a force diminished by the Troops required to cover Washington and Maryland? . . . There is evidently a general public misconception of the Strength of our Army in Virginia and about Washington, perhaps it is good policy to encourage this public error. The entire effective force in the fortifications about Washington and employed in guarding the public Buildings and Stores, the Aqueduct and Railroads does not exceed 18,000 men . . . less than one half of what Gen. McClellan and several Boards of Officers recommended as the permanent garrison . . . The effective force of the Army of the Potomac is only about 70,000. General Meade retreated before Lee with a very much larger force and he does not now deem himself strong enough to attack Lee's present Army. . . . Uncover Washington and the Potomac River and all the forces which Lee can collect will be moved North, and the popular sentiment will compel the Government to BRING BACK the Army in North Carolina to defend Washington, Baltimore, Harrisburg and Philadelphia. I think Lee would to-morrow exchange Richmond, Raleigh and Wilmington for the possession of either of the afore-mentioned Cities. . . . We have there now hardly enough to hold the points which it is necessary to occupy in order to prevent Contraband Trade. . . . Maryland is almost entirely stripped of troops and the forces in Western Virginia are hardly sufficient to protect that part of the Country from Rebel Raids. . . . I always have been opposed to all these isolated Expeditions on the Sea and Gulf Coasts. It is true they greatly assist the Navy in maintaining the Blockade and preventing Contraband Trade but I think the troops so employed would do more good if concentrated on some important line of Military Operations. We have given too much attention to cutting the Toe-Nails of our Enemy instead of grasping his Throat. . . . Lee's Army is by far the best in the Rebel Service and I regard him as their ablest General. But little progress can be made here till that Army is broken or defeated. There have been several good opportunities to do this, viz., at Antietam, at Chancellorsville, and at Williamsport, in the Retreat from Gettysburg. I am also of opinion that Gen. Meade could have succeeded recently at Mine Run had he persevered in his attack. . . . In the meantime it will be well to compare views and opinions. The final decision of the Question will probably depend, under the president, upon yourself. . . . I think you are entitled to have, and that it is my duty to frankly give my opinion of the Subject. It will no doubt be received for what it may be intrinsically worth. I can ask or expect nothing more." 11 pages, 4to. Head Quarters of the Army, Wash., Feb. 17, 1864.

* A magnificent Army Letter, written by Gen. Halleck to Grant when he was about to supersede him as General-in-Chief.

HAWTHORNE'S COPY OF A RARE WORK ON SALEM WITCHCRAFT WITH AUTOGRAPH AND UNDERSCORINGS.

309. HAWTHORNE'S COPY OF LAWSON'S "CHRIST'S FIDELITY." Lawson (Deodat). Christ's Fidelity, the only Shield against Satan's Malignity, asserted in a Sermon DELIVER'D AT SALEM VILLAGE, the 24th of March, 1692, being Lecture-Day there, and a time of Publick Examination of SOME SUSPECTED FOR WITCHCRAFT. By Deodat Lawson, Minister of the Gospel. The Second edn. 12mo. OLD MARBLED WRAPPERS. VERY RARE, ESPECIALLY IN SUCH DESIRABLE CONDITION. Printed at Boston in New England, and Reprinted in London, by R. Tooke, for the Author, 1704.

* OF SUPERLATIVE ASSOCIATION INTEREST, BEING NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE'S COPY, WITH HIS AUTOGRAPH, "Nath. Hawthorne," on the reverse of the dedication leaf. The autograph is AN EARLY ONE, and was probably written about 1828. It is generally understood that 1825 was the year that Hawthorne changed the spelling of his name from "Hathorne" to "Hawthorne." In addition to the autograph, the WORK IS UNDERSCORED AND MARKED ON NUMEROUS PAGES, WITH THE SAME INK, AND IN ALL PROBABILITY BY ITS FORMER ILLUSTRIOUS OWNER. The title-page, and leaf following, also on the Dedication leaf over and under the words "John Hathorne," and at pages 28, 29, 62, 63, 64, 69, 73, 93, 109, 112 and 115, occur the underscorings. Special mention, however, should be made of page 69. The paragraph ending with . . . "Remediless Torments prepared for the Devil and his Angels," HAWTHORNE HAS WRITTEN "Appropriate;" also, the following paragraph, commencing, "The Reverend Mr. Simmes, sometime since Minister of this Country, coming into Prison to a Condemned witch, tho' he knew her not," etc., is bracketed, undoubtedly by the same hand.

The book is dedicated to Bartholomew Gidney, JOHN HAWTHORNE, and Jonathan Corwin. The JOHN HATHORNE is "magistrate John of fanatical memory," the son of William Hathorne, the founder of the family in this country. It is on record how that when John Hathorne as magistrate sentenced to death one of the witches, that her husband cursed him and his children's children.

"This was the curse that lingered in the family memory like a black spot in the blood, and was ever after used to explain any ill that befell the house"—(WOODBERRY).

SO FAR AS WE HAVE BEEN ABLE TO TRACE, THIS IS THE FIRST BOOK DEALING WITH THE SUBJECT OF SALEM WITCHCRAFT (a subject the gifted author of "The Scarlet Letter" was so intensely interested in) THAT HAS BEEN OFFERED FOR SALE.

In crushed levant morocco solander case.

Two letters reproduced in facsimile are inserted; one from Brook Farm under date of April 13, 1841, and one from Salem a year later. In the former Hawthorne sketches with a light hand his impressions of the community. In it is found the famous reference to "Miss Fuller's transcendental heifer." There is a fine introductory note by Roswell Field. A very small portion of these letters has heretofore appeared in print. As the present publication is copyrighted it must naturally be many years before they can be again produced. This is a FIRST EDITION of Hawthorne that is practically absorbed by collectors immediately upon publication.

*The author says in the preface that some great personage, whom he does not name, had shown him a book containing fifty-two tales, originally written in the Indian language, and, as the translation was prolix, inelegant, and ill arranged, had requested him to re-write it in a more attractive form. He adds that in so doing, he has in some instances substituted new stories for inferior tales. The work was completed, as stated in some verses at the end, in A. H. 730 (=A. D. 1329). The Tuti Nāmeh has been translated into English by M. Gerrans. London, 1792.

IN THE BRITISH MUSEUM THERE ARE SIX OR SEVEN MANUSCRIPTS OF THIS WORK, OF WHICH THE MOST ANCIENT IS OF THE LATTER HALF OF THE 17TH CENTURY, THE OTHERS BEING ALL OF THE 18TH; BUT NONE OF THEM ARE ILLUMINATED. IT IS WELL KNOWN THAT ILLUMINATED PERSIAN MANUSCRIPTS ARE VERY SCARCE, AND ARE EXTREMELY RARE, WHEN THEY HAVE AS THIS SUCH A REMARKABLE NUMBER OF MINIATURES, AND SO FINELY EXECUTED, THAT THEY CAN BE REALLY ESTEEMED AS SOME OF THE BEST SPECIMENS OF THE PERSIAN ART OF ILLUMINATING OF THE PERIOD.

The Indians of North America.

336. INDIANS. Hubbard (William). The Present State of New England. Being a Narrative of the Troubles with the Indians in New England, from the first planting thereof in the year 1607, to this present year 1677; but chiefly of the late troubles in the two last years, 1675 and 1677. To which is added a Discourse about the War with the Pequods in the year 1637. By W. Hubbard, Minister of Ipswich. Small 4to, old calf (recovered with vellum and somewhat discolored). Lond.: Tho. Parkhurst, 1677

* EXTREMELY RARE, TALL AND PERFECT COPY. CONTAINING THE LICENSE LEAF PRECEDING TITLE, THE RARE "WINE HILLS" MAP, DEDICATION, ADVERTISEMENT, ETC., ETC.

The Rev. William Hubbard, born in 1621, emigrated to New England at the age of fourteen. He was remarkable in an age and country of bigots for his liberality, moderation and piety, and his "Narrative" for two hundred years past has been regarded by historians as a standard of authority. The fact that the map, in so many instances, is found missing, has led some bibliographers to believe that it was not originally issued with the book itself, but supplied to subscribers a month or so later. Hence its great rarity. And this assumption seems to be strengthened by the fact that Mr. Quaritch, some years ago, had in his possession a copy from the Sunderland Library, where it had doubtless lain ever since its delivery by the publisher, and though perfect in every other particular, wanted the map, as usual.

337. INDIANS. Callender (John). An Historical Discourse on the Civil and Religious Affairs of the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in New England in America, from the First Settlement in 1638 to the end of the first century. Bost.: S. Kneeland, 1739

* THE RARE ORIGINAL EDITION. The work is largely taken up with an original account of the INDIANS of the section, their wars, condition, etc.

The earliest historical work on the Colony of Rhode Island.

Bost.: S. Kneeland, 1753

339. INDIANS. Evans (Rev. Israel). A Discourse delivered at Easton, on the 17th of October, 1779, to the Officers and Soldiers of the Western Army after their Return from an Expedition against the Five Nations of hostile Indians (etc.). 8vo, newly bound in half brown polished morocco gilt, gilt top, by STIKEMAN.

Phil.: Thos. Bradford, 1779

* The author was chaplain to General Enoch Poor's Brigade, and accompanied the devastating expedition under General Sullivan into the country of the Six Nations, by way of retaliation upon the Indians and Tories for the shocking cruelties perpetrated by them upon the inhabitants of Cherry Valley and Wyoming. In all American history, perhaps, there is scarcely a more harrowing chapter than that which records the atrocities of the Wyoming Massacre and the terrible vengeance wreaked upon the savages by Sullivan in return, "a campaign before which we would gladly draw the veil of forgetfulness."

The present discourse was pronounced before the army shortly before its disbanding.

AN EXCESSIVELY RARE PAMPHLET, printed at the request of the officers for gratuitous distribution among the soldiers who served in the campaign.

* Best edition. Scarce. "During this expedition Mr. Hind lived almost constantly among the Crees and Chippeways, whose habits and peculiarities he was most eager to study, and prompt to record," etc.—FIELD.

344. INDIANS. "FEEDING THE DEAD." Original water-color drawing, by Captain S. Eastman, for the plate which appears in Vol. I, p. 63, of Schoolcraft's "Indian Tribes." Marked "Plate 3," and with directions to Hinshelwood (the engraver) written above. $9\frac{1}{2}$ x 7 inches.

* This is one of Eastman's ORIGINAL WATER COLOR DRAWINGS MADE FOR SCHOOLCRAFT'S "INDIAN TRIBES," 1851-57. It is signed by Captain Eastman, the title written underneath by him. It was also used later to illustrate the work of his wife, Mary H. Eastman. This drawing is one of the most interesting Indian items. The fidelity of Eastman's work was recognized by the Government, and he was commissioned by the Bureau of Indian Affairs to illustrate the work of Schoolcraft.

Books from the Library of Thomas Jefferson.

The following books [351-378] formed a part of the Library of Thomas Jefferson. Many of them contain his private mark; others were presented to him by their authors, or bear the autograph or book-labels of his daughter or her husband, Thomas Mann Randolph, afterward Governor of Virginia. They have been in the possession of the immediate family since Jefferson's time.

It will be noticed that the private mark of Thomas Jefferson is as follows: In the sheet signatures, where the letter "T" occurs, Jefferson has added a "J." in his own hand immediately afterward; where the letter "I" occurs Jefferson has placed a "T" before it and turned the "I" into a "J," thus making his initials "T. J." as his private mark in his own books.

In 1814—12 years before his death—he sold his library to the Congress for $23,000, about one-fourth of its value; however, he continued to collect books up to the time of his death, and the authenticity of these volumes is guaranteed by Mrs. C. R. Randolph, of University Station, Charlottesville, Va., a descendant of Jefferson and the former owner of the books.

Some of these books were formerly in the family of Jefferson's wife, Martha Wayles, daughter of John Wayles, a wealthy Colonial lawyer of Virginia.

351. BOMARE (VALMONT DE). Dictionnaire Raisonné Universelle d'Histoire Naturelle; contenant l'Histoire des Animaux, des Vegetaux et des Mineraux. 6 vols. 12mo, old mottled calf. Paris, 1768

* Each volume bears Jefferson's private mark twice. There is a MS. correction on p. 145 of Vol. II.

A slip laid in Vol. I. has written thereon in a hand that may or may not be Jefferson's the quotation from Shakespeare: "To-day he puts forth the tender leaves of hope, to-morrow blossoms, etc.," ending with the last line at the bottom of the slip, separated from the others: "And then he falls as I do," which may be an allusion to Jefferson's series of misfortunes during the latter years of his life.

The autograph of G. W. Randolph is on a fly-leaf in each volume.

352. [DEBROCA (LOUIS).] Le Ton de la Bonne Compagnie, ou Règles de la Civilité. 16mo, old leather (back cover loose). Paris, 1802

* A little French book of "Don'ts" belonging to Jefferson's daughter, and with her autograph, "M. Randolph, Monticello," on a fly-leaf, underneath which is that of G. W. Randolph, her son.

353. DIONYSIUS HALICARNASSUS. Les Antiquités Romaines. Traduites en Français par Bellanger. 6 vols. 8vo, full scored marbled calf in different shades, and gilt backs, a narrow gilt floral border, marbled edges and endpapers. Chanmont, 1800

* JEFFERSON'S COPY, WITH HIS PRIVATE MARK TWICE IN EACH VOLUME. ALSO, A FINE SPECIMEN OF EARLY AMERICAN BINDING, WITH THE TICKET OF "Fred A. Mayo Richmond Va.," inside Vol. I. ATTACHED TO THE TITLES OF VOLS. 4 AND 5 ARE SLIPS OF PAPER WITH JEFFERSON'S DIRECTION TO THE BINDER FOR THE LETTERING ON THE BACKS.

The Exhibition of American Bindings at the Grolier Club last year did not possess a specimen of this binder, and his work was apparently unknown to the owner of that fine collection.

354. ENFIELD (WM.). The Speaker; or, Miscellaneous Pieces from the best English Writers. 12mo, old leather. Dublin; 1786

* With the very rare autograph of Jefferson's oldest daughter Martha on the title "M. Jefferson," and on the inside cover her name after she was married "M. Randolph, Monticello." Underneath is the autograph of her son G. W. Randolph.

355. FIELDING (HENRY). La Storia di Tom Jones. [Transl. from the French of M. de la Place into Italian.] Full-page engraved plates after Gravelot. 2 vols. crown 8vo, old leather (water-stained). Venice, 1757

* THOMAS JEFFERSON'S OWN COPY OF A NOTED ENGLISH CLASSIC, WITH HIS AUTOGRAPH ON THE TITLE OF VOL. II (partly cut into by the binder), and his private mark on pp. 129 and 289 of each volume. It would be difficult to procure a more interesting association item, showing Jefferson's catholic taste in reading.

356. HENAU (J. F.) AND FANTIN DES ODOARDS (ANT.). Nouvel Abrégé Chronologique de l'Histoire de France . . . depuis Clovis jusqu'à Louis XIV., les Guerres, les Batailles, les Sièges, &c., nos Lois nos Mœurs, etc., 3 vols., 1774; the two additional volumes carrying the history down to the Treaty of Campo-Formio by Fantin des Odoards, Paris, 1800. Together 5 vols. 12mo, tree calf. Paris, 1774-1800

* Jefferson's private mark appears twice in each volume.

* With the book-labels of Thomas Mann Randolph.

358. HERODOTUS. Herodoti Historiarum, Graecæ et Latinæ . . . ex MS. Medicea post Aldi Manuti, H. Stephani, etc. Notæ cura Jacobii Gronovii. Engraved title. Large folio (lacks front cover). Lugd. Bat. [Leyden], 1716

* In addition to the Nine Books of Herodotus the volume contains the Life of Homer, and fragments from Ctesias, Strabo, Agathocles and other writers on the ancient Egyptians, Persians, etc.

359. JUVENAL. D. IVN. IUVENALIS et Avli Persii Flacci Satyrae. Cum annotat. Th. Farnabii. 16mo, original vellum. Amsterdam: Joannis Blaev, 1650

361. LAVOISNE'S ATLAS. A Complete Genealogical, Historical, Chronological and Geographical Atlas. By M. Lavoisne. From the last London edition, by C. Gros and J. Aspin. Folio, half old calf (cracked, and margin of title strengthened). Phil. 1821

362. LLOYD (NICHOLAS). Dictionarium Historicum, Geographicum Poeticum: Authore Carolo Stephano . . . Recensuit, supplevit, etc. Nicolaus Lloydius. Small folio, old leather. Oxford, 1671

*Jefferson's own copy, with his private mark at pp. 33 and 73.

The work is valuable for the list of Roman Stations, Camps and Towns in Britain, compiled from Antoninus' Itinerary. A few American places are also included.

363. LUCRETIVS. T. Lucretius Carus, of the Nature of Things. Transl. by Tho. Creech. Front. 2 vols. 8vo, sheep. Lacks four leaves. Lond. 1715

364. MILLOT (ABBÉ). Elemens d'Histoire Générale. Vols. 3 and 4. Crown 8vo, old marbled leather. Paris, 1778

With the autograph of G. W. Randolph, and the stamp "M. Randolph, Monticello," on titles.

365. OVID. Metamorphoses. Studio, by Jacobus Pontanus. 16mo, marbled calf gilt, doubtless by an American binder. Antwerp, 1657

* The private mark of Th. Jefferson is on Page 193, and a part of the slip, containing directions for the binder, still inserted (not in his hand). There are various passages marked with an "X" throughout.

366. PIGNOTTI (LORENZO). Favole e Novelle. 16mo, sheep. Lond. 1784

368. ROUSSEAU (J. J.). Œuvres de Rousseau, Vols. 3, 4, 5 and 6 only containing "La Nouvelle Héloïse" complete. Copper-plates, after Gravelot. 4 vols. 16mo, old calf. Geneva, 1783

* With the book-label of Thos. Mann Randolph in each volume.

369. SAAVEDRA FAXARDO (DON DIEGO DE). Em-presas Politicas. Vignettes. 3 vols. 12mo, old calf. Madrid, 1789-90

372. SONGS. A Folio Volume of 18th Century engraved sheet music, including Lyric Harmony, Eighteen Ballads by T. A. Arne, sung by Mrs. Arne and Mr. Lowe; a Second Collection, by Bach, sung by Mr. Pinto and Mrs. Weichsell; the Ballads sung by Mr. Dibdin (Royal 8vo); Three Cantatas, by Haydn, with engraved title, etc.; with a number of separate songs, mostly Bacchanalian, mounted on parts of the Bristol Journal, 1766. Folio, old boards.

* With the autograph of John Wayles, the father of Thomas Jefferson's wife. Attached to the fly-leaf is a slip of paper, bearing notes (partly torn away) in a hand that may be Jefferson's.

373. SULLY'S MEMOIRS. Mémoires de Maximilien de Bethune, Duc de Sully. Avec des Remarques par M. L. D. L. D. (Abbé de l'Écluse des Loges). Portraits of Sully and of Henry IV. 8 vols. 12mo, old calf. Lond. 1767

* Jefferson's initials are written twice in each volume, except the last in which it occurs only once. JEFFERSON'S OWN COPY of one of the famous historical classics is an interesting memento. The condition of the binding, and a few pencilled translations, would indicate that he found the first volume much more interesting reading than the others. In the fourth volume is laid in a scrap of writing, on which Sarah N. Randolph (author of the "Life of Jefferson") has been apparently practising the writing of her name, and drawing a slight ground-plan of a house.

374. TACITUS. Taciti quæ exstant, cura M. Z. Boxhornius. 5 vols. 12mo, old red morocco (worn), gilt.

Amsterdam: Jansson, 1661

* Vol. 5 is the Elzevir edition of Savilius' Commentary, 1646. The four volumes are interleaved (page for page) with Davanzati's Italian translation (Paris, 1760). This was a favorite practice of Thomas Jefferson, several books of his existing in this state.

With the autographs of T. M. Randolph, to whom, no doubt, Jefferson presented these books.

375. VERTOT (ABBÉ). History of the Revolutions in the Roman Republic. Vol. 1. 8vo, old leather, worn.

Lond. 1721

* This copy seems originally to have been the property of a Bedford Davenport, then of Richard Bland, the celebrated Virginia Statesman, who has written his name in it, and finally into the possession of Thomas Jefferson. The private mark of Jefferson is written at the bottom of pp. 97 and 257. Some typographical corrections that have been made, may either have been by Richard Bland or Jefferson.

376. VIRGINIA LAWS. General Convention of Delegates and Representatives from the Several Counties and Corporations of Virginia, held at the Capitol in the City of Williamsburg, on Monday, May 6th, 1776 (to Dec. 26, 1794). Folio, old leather, worn, lacks title and some of the tables.
[Richmond, 1794]

* With the autographs of Charles and James Harrison.

377. VOLNEY (C. F.). Voyage en Syrie et en Egypte, 1783-5. 4 folding maps and plates. 2 vols. 8vo, old calf.

* With the autograph of T. M. Randolph on title and inside covers.

378. VOLNEY'S RUINS, and short Biographical Notice by Count Daru. Portrait by Tardieu, and 2 plates. 16mo, old leather.
Paris, 1820

* PRESENTATION COPY TO MARTHA JEFFERSON RANDOLPH FROM N. P. TRIST (who studied law under Jefferson).

LARGE PAPER COPY, WITH COLORED PLATES.

379. JOHNSON'S CHRYSAL. Large Paper. [(Johnson (Charles).)] Chrysal; or, The Adventures of a Guinea. With a Sketch of the Author's Life. 3 vols. 8vo, newly and handsomely bound in full blue crushed levant morocco, with floral ornaments on each corner of all sides, and on each panel of backs inlaid with red levant, gilt tops, uncut, by WOOD.
Lond. 1821

* A VERY FINE COPY OF THE EXTREMELY SCARCE LARGE PAPER FIRST EDITION. With 15 beautifully COLORED PLATES after Corbould, by Burney and others. This masterly satire has been many times reprinted, but the above issue with the colored plates must always rank as the finest edition.

One of the characters satirized is General Wolfe, the hero of Quebec. The work contains a full account of the sham Order of Monks of St. Francis, established at Medmenham Abbey by Sir Francis Dashwood, the notorious John Wilkes, and others, and with full descriptions of their mock rites and orgies.

380. JOHNSON (DR. SAMUEL). The Vanity of Human Wishes, the Tenth Satire of Juvenal Imitated. FIRST EDN. Small 4to, new half calf, gilt edges, by RIVIERE. FINE COPY.
Lond.: R. Dodsley, 1748

* A beautiful copy of the first edition of this immortal work, which Lord Byron pronounces "sublime." It was much altered in after editions. It exposes, in a very solemn spirit, vain hopes, wishes, and efforts of humanity at large. The portraits of Wolsey, Bacon, and Charles the Twelfth are admirable in their execution, and in their adaptation to the argument of the piece; and the last paragraph for truth and masculine energy is unsurpassed, we believe, in the whole compass of ethical poetry.

IN THE ORIGINAL BOARDS, UNCUT.

387. KEATS (JOHN). Endymion, a Poetic Romance. THE RARE FIRST EDN. 8vo, IN THE ORIGINAL BOARDS, UNCUT. Lond.: Printed for Taylor & Hessey, 1818

* VERY FINE COPY, RARE IN THIS STATE. With the five-line leaf of "Errata."

388. KEATS (JOHN), part of A. L. S., 2 pp. 4to, to his sister, accompanied by a letter from his nephew, C. G. Keats, presenting it to Bayard Taylor. A very interesting and humorous letter to his sister. Unfortunately the lower parts of the letter has been torn off, but the signature is intact, and enough of the letter remains to make it of the highest interest.

* "Henry is wife-bound in Cambden Town; there is no getting him out, I am sorry he has not a prettier wife, indeed, 'tis a shame; she is not half a wife. I think I could find some of her relations in Baffon, or Capt. Cook's voyages—or upon a Chinese clock door, the Sheperdesses on her own mantelpiece,—or in a Dutch top shop window, or one of the daughters in the Ark, or in any picture shop window.—Thinking you might want a rat catcher, I put your mother's old Quaker colored cat into the top of your bonnet, she's wi' Kitten, so you can expect to find a whole family. I hope the family will grow too large for the lodgings, etc., etc."

389. KEBLE (JOHN). The Christion Year: Thoughts in Verse for the Sundays and Holydays throughout the year. 2 vols. 12mo, full brown levant, gold and blind tooled, inside borders, gilt tops, UNCT.

392. KELMSCOTT PRESS. The Romance of Sir Degrevant. Edited by F. S. Ellis, after the Edition printed by J. O. Halliwell from the Cambridge MS., with some additions and variations. Lond. 1896

* Fine copy in a strikingly artistic binding.

393. KELMSCOTT PRESS. Syr Ysambrace. Edited by F. S. Ellis. With decorative woodcut front., title-page and initials; printed in black and red. 8vo, full brown crushed levant, elaborately gilt tooled on back and sides, gilt top, uncut, by ZAEHNSDORF. Lond. 1897

* One of 350 copies printed. From the edition printed by J. O. Halliwell, after the MS. in Lincoln Cathedral.

394. KEMPIS (THOMAS À). De Imitatione Christi et de contemptu omnium vanitatum mundi libri IV. With initials painted in red. 8vo, contemporary wooden boards covered with stamped calf (rebacked).

Argentinae: [Johannes Prüss] 1489

* Gothic character. 168 unnumbered leaves; signatures A-X. Hain-Copinger, 9098; Proctor, 545. A very rare and early edition of the famous treatise of the Imitation of Christ, and at the same time the smallest edition of work published during the 15th Century. A fine and large copy, with the title and the two blank leaves following the tables, which are wanting in most of the few copies known.

395. KING EDWARD VII. Oratio ad illustrissimum principem ALBERTUM EDWARDUM, principem Walliæ ab Edwardo Galfrido Comite de Derby. Academia Oxoniensis Cancellaris. In Theatro Sheldoniano, habita die XVI mensis Junii A. D. MDCCCLXIII. [1863]. Folio, paper.

[Lond. 1863]

* BEARS AUTOGRAPH PRESENTATION INSCRIPTION: "Edward C. Glyn, from his affec. friend, ALBERT EDWARD GUELPH, Wales."

396. KIPLING (RUDYARD). The Courting of Dinah Shadd, and Other Stories. Biographical Sketch by Andrew Lang. Small 8vo, in the original printed wrappers, as issued. Fine copy. N. Y.: Harper & Bros., September. 1890

* THE VERY RARE FIRST ISSUE OF THE SUPPRESSED FIRST EDITION, with all the necessary "points."

In the controversy which followed the publication of this volume, the author sought to reflect unpleasantly upon the reputation of the American publishers, when he was answered by three prominent brothers of the pen in his own country, which retort, in turn, called forth from Mr. Kipling's pen, "The Rhyme of the Three Captains," possibly the strongest of his satires. The American publisher is here introduced in the character of the "Pirate, Paul Jones." The story of this controversy forms the subject of a privately printed brochure, issued in New York in 1898. AN EXTREMELY DIFFICULT ITEM TO OBTAIN IN THE GENUINE FIRST ISSUE.

397. LA FONTAINE FABLES. Transl. from the French by Elizur Wright. Illustr. by Grandville. 4 vols. 8vo, half green morocco, tops gilt, uncut.

Bost. 1841

* FINE COPY, EXTENDED FROM 2 VOLS. INTO FOUR BY THE INSERTION OF 14 PORTRAITS AND 2 SETS OF ILLUSTRATIONS.

The Writings of Charles Lamb, including "The King and Queen of Hearts" and "Beauty and the Beast."

398. [LAMB (CHARLES) AND WHITE (JAMES).] Original Letters, etc., of Sir John Falstaff and his Friends; now first made public by a Gentleman, a Descendant of Dame Quickly, from Genuine Manuscripts which have been in the possession of the Quickly family near Four Hundred Years. Pretty front. of Falstaff learning to dance FIRST EDN. 12mo, calf. Lond. 1796

* "Canon Ainger states that Southey believed Lamb had a hand in this work. The preface in particular bears some traces of his peculiar vein. Hazlitt says: 'Some thought it to be Lamb's . . . a few . . . [that] Lamb had contributed suggestions, and White the remainder.' It is dedicated to Samuel Ireland (whose abortive forgery of 'Vortigern' had just been damned at the play-house) in five pages of Old English letter; and the sportive book, it would seem, was provoked by the impudent venture. One would judge that the Dedication and Preface are both principally by Lamb. In the latter is an allusion to 'ROAST PIG,' concerning which dainty Elia was learned, beyond the commonalty; and, which is still more conclusive, to—ROAST SUCKING PIG! The 'Letters' themselves should be ascribed mostly to White, as they are somewhat more freely spoken than is usual with Lamb; although the copious reading of the latter among the Elizabethan dramatists probably furnished many phrases and sentences."

BOUND BY DE SAUTY.

399. LAMB (CHARLES). Blank Verse, by Charles Lloyd and Charles Lamb. FIRST EDN. 16mo, sumptuously bound, to the order of the former owner, BY DE SAUTY, in exquisite full crushed and polished levant, crimson, olive, and green, richly gold-tooled, and with the design of inlays so disposed as to form on both sides a lozenge the length of the covers, superimposed upon a panel of stipple tooling and inlay, and wrought with foliate inlays; panelled gold-stippled back, raised bands, inside gold-line borders, gilt top.

Lond. 1798

* Charles Lamb's contribution to this, the first book to which his name was signed, consists of seven brief pieces: "To Charles Lloyd," "Written on the Day of my Aunt's Funeral," "Written a Year after the Events," "Written soon after the Preceding Poem," "Written on Christmas Day, 1797," "The Old Familiar Faces," and "Lines Composed at Midnight." The penultimate poem appears in an earlier and very different form from that in which it has become endeared to lovers of Lamb's verse. De Sauty's binding, finely wrought as it is, seems to have been planned with such good taste as not to attract attention from the book as an end in itself; but to offer, in due subordination, a fit covering for these early and beautiful lines of the two youthful friends.

A FINE COPY OF A VERY RARE BOOK IN A MAGNIFICENT BINDING. In cloth case.

OF HEARTS: WITH THE ROGUERIES OF THE KNAVE
WHO STOLE THE QUEEN'S PIES.
ILLUSTRATED IN
FIFTEEN ELEGANT ENGRAVINGS.

LONDON:
Published at the JUVENILE LIBRARY, 41, Skinner Street, Snow Hill; and to be had of all Booksellers.

1808.

[SEE No. 400.]

LAMB'S "KING AND QUEEN OF HEARTS," WITH COLORED PLATES, IN THE ORIGINAL WRAPPERS, AND OF WHICH ONLY A FEW COPIES ARE KNOWN TO EXIST.

400. [LAMB (CHARLES).] THE KING AND QUEEN OF HEARTS. Showing how Notably the Queen made her Tarts and how Scurvily the Knave stole them away, with other particulars belonging thereunto. 12mo, IN THE ORIGINAL DULL BLUE PAPER WRAPPERS, and with only about 1½ inches of the back missing, the remainder being absolutely AS ISSUED AND NOT IN ANY WAY REPAIRED. Enclosed in a handsome solander case of crushed levant morocco, with inner protecting cover of red silk. [London]: Printed for Thos. Hodgkins, Hanway Street, Nov. 18, 1805.

* OF EXTREME RARITY, BUT VERY FEW (probably 3 or 4) COPIES KNOWN. The printed wrapper reads, "The King and Queen of Hearts, with the Rogueries of the Knave who stole the Queen's Pies. Illustrated in fifteen elegant engravings BY MULREADY (ALL OF WHICH ARE BRILLIANT IMPRESSIONS IN COLOR). London: Published at the Juvenile Library, 41 Skinner Street, Snow Hill, and to be had of all Booksellers, 1808."

The lower margins of four pages are slightly cut into, which seems to be the case with the few copies that are known. This was due to the careless folding of the sheets.

A copy with the date 1809 sold in London in 1902 for £222, and is now in a collection in this country.

[See Reproduction.]

A CHARLES LAMB RARITY, IN THE ORIGINAL BOARDS.

401. [LAMB (CHARLES).] BEAUTY AND THE BEAST, or, A Rough Outside, with a Gentle Heart. A Poetical Version of an Ancient Tale. Illust. with a series of (8 COLORED) ENGRAVINGS (which are attributed to Maria Flaxman, sister of the sculptor). 12mo, ORIGINAL DULL BLUE WRAPPERS, with cut on front: "Go be a Beast.—Homer" (though not lettered, lacks back, title and sheet of music). (At bottom of last leaf) Lond.: Printed by B. M'Millan, Bow Street, Covent Garden [1811?]

* EXTREMELY RARE IN ANY CONDITION. It is said by the late owner (a collector of note) that this being the FIRST ISSUE, WAS PRINTED WITHOUT TITLE. There is no positive information that this work was written by Charles Lamb, but it is always attributed to him. This is the "Surprise" variety, so designated by Mr. Luther S. Livingstone and Mr. J. C. Thomson, in their bibliographies of the Essayist. An interesting fact, in connection WITH THIS COPY, is that the colored engraving, "The Rose Gather'd," faces PAGE 12, AND NOT PAGE 11, as stated in the bibliographies of Lamb, by Mr. E. D. North, Mr. L. S. Livingstone, and Mr. J. C. Thomson.

Enclosed in a handsome full crushed crimson levant morocco solander case, with inner protecting cover of red silk.

UNCUT COPY.

402. LAMB (CHARLES). Elia: Essays which have appeared under that Signature in the London Magazine. 12mo, bound by RIVIERE in full peacock-blue levant morocco, crushed and polished, panelled back, raised bands, inside borders, gilt top, UNCUT. Lond. 1823

* A BEAUTIFUL UNCUT COPY.

403. [LAMB (CHARLES).] ENGLISHMAN'S MAGAZINE (containing articles or contributions from CHARLES LAMB, Tom Hood, LORD TENNYSON, LEIGH HUNT, A. H. Hallam, Sheridan Knowles, Mrs. Norton, and others, many of which have never been republished). Vol. I. and part of Vol. II. (all published). With plates. 8vo, full blue levant morocco gilt, gilt edges, by RIVIERE. Lond.: Moxon, 1831

* EXTREMELY RARE. No title was issued for Vol. II., as the magazine abruptly terminated with the second number of it. The most important contributions, perhaps, are: Hallam's "On some of the Characteristics of Modern Poetry, and on the Lyrical Poems of Alfred Tennyson," about half of which only was reprinted in his privately printed volume of "Remains," published in 1834; "Stanzas," by the same, not republished; a "Sonnet," by Tennyson; Tom Hood's "Lines on his Sister's Death," and numerous Papers, Essays, and Poems, by Charles Lamb, including those contributed under the quaint appellation of "Perters Net." "The Latin Poems of Vincent Bourne" (until recently unknown as Lamb's) appear in the September number, in which he cleverly reviews his own "Album Verses."

AUTOGRAPH PRESENTATION COPY FROM CHARLES LAMB, WITH INSCRIPTION MENTIONING HIS SISTER MARY,
ALSO POEM IN HIS AUTOGRAPH.

404. [LAMB (CHARLES) AND HONE (WILLIAM).] Leigh's Guide to Wales and Monmouthshire, containing Observations on the Mode of Travelling, etc., etc. Map and view. 12mo, original cloth, with view of Conway Castle on front cover (which is repaired at the joint). In cloth case. Lond. 1833

* OF THE HIGHEST ASSOCIATION INTEREST, BEING AN AUTOGRAPH PRESENTATION COPY FROM CHARLES LAMB TO HIS FRIEND, WILLIAM HONE, the well-known publisher, with the following inscription:

*"To my very dear friend,
W. Hone.
Tryphena and Tryphosa,
Greet you with me,
Ch. Lamb,*

9 May, 1833."

An interesting fact in connection with "Tryphena and Tryphosa" occurs in a letter from Lamb to Hone, dated just 2 months and 3 days prior to the writing of this inscription, and which he says in part "... Tryphena and Tryphosa, whom the world calleth Mary and Emma, greet you with me." Mary was his sister and joint author of the "Tales from Shakespeare," and Emma was Miss Isola, later the wife of Edward

Moxon, the publisher, and who, at her marriage, according to a letter written by Lamb, Aug. 20, 1833, looked "as pretty as Pamela." Also, with the ADDITIONAL FEATURE OF HAVING SIX LINES OF POETRY IN LAMB'S AUTOGRAPH on the reverse of the view. The lines (unpublished ?) are as follows:

"Darkness away, I am the child of light,
Of light and song, What wilt thou then with me ?
I am not thine.
To wander with the winds, to roam through space
Some future day, rich with the rays of Stars
I will return and light my eyes with flame."

THIRD SESSION.

405. LANG (ANDREW). Perrault's Popular Tales. Edited from the original Editions, with Introduction, etc., by Andrew Lang, M.A. 12mo, brown levant morocco, INLAID WITH FIGURE OF PUSS-IN-BOOTS, IN MOSAIC BLACK, WHITE, GREEN, interior gilt borders, by RITTER. Oxford, 1888

* EXTRA-ILLUSTRATED with Edelinck portrait and series of plates in proofs in bistre on China paper, and portrait in medallion by Eisen, mentioned in first line of Lang's Introduction, in proof on China paper.

EXTRA-ILLUSTRATED LIFE OF JOHN LEECH.

406. LEECH (JOHN). His Life and Work. By W. P. Frith. With about 100 etchings and woodcuts by Leech, and further embellished by the insertion of 100 plates by Leech, George Cruikshank, Robert Seymour, Rowlandson, Doyle, "Phiz," etc., INCLUDING MANY HAND-COLORED. 2 vols. 8vo, newly and sumptuously bound in polished crimson levant morocco extra, backs prettily gold tooled to an unconventional design, with pointillé tooling in gold, gilt panelled sides and gold tooled inside borders, uncut, gilt tops, by MORRELL. Lond.: Bentley, 1891

* A FINELY EXTRA-ILLUSTRATED COPY, CONTAINING SOME SCARCE MATERIAL.

A VERY CHOICE SET.

407. LEVER (CHARLES). The Novels of Charles Lever. With an Introduction by Andrew Lang. Fronts. on Japan paper, illusts. by "Phiz," Wheeler, etc., in duplicate, one on Japan paper and the other on handmade paper. 40 vols. 8vo, half green French crushed levant morocco, gilt tooled panelled backs, with the design of the shamrock, gilt tops, uncut. Bost. and N. Y., 1894-95

* The Edition de Luxe, of the 150 sets for America. Printed on Dickenson handmade paper. A VERY HANDSOME SET OF THE BEST LIBRARY EDITION OF THE WRITINGS OF LEVER YET ISSUED.

408. LINSCHOTEN (JAN HUYGEN VAN). Semper eadem. John Huighen van Linschoten, his Discours of Voyages into ye East and West Indies. Divided in four books. Complete with all the 12 large maps, the 4 titles and the 29 engravings of costumes. Folio, full russia gilt (joints restored), gilt edges. Lond.: John Wolfe, 1598

* This is one of the most difficult of English books to meet with in absolutely perfect and fine condition. In this copy all the maps, with the exception of 4, are the correct English impressions engraved by Rogers, Eastlake or Becket. The book is usually considered quite perfect with the 12 maps, as it is not generally known that it should also contain plates. Very few copies are found containing them, but as they are actually mentioned in the text it is clear they should be included. It is possible that the publisher Wolfe intended originally to reproduce the plates in English, but may have abandoned the idea on account of the great number and the cost. It is more likely he purchased a number of the original Dutch impressions for insertion in certain copies of the English edition, as in the few cases of known copies containing the plates they all bear the Dutch and Latin letterings and pagination. At all events, the plates never seem to have been done in English, and COPIES OF THE ENGLISH BOOK WITH THE DUTCH OR LATIN PLATES, AS THIS, ARE OF THE RAREST OCCURRENCE; ALSO, PORTRAIT OF LINSCHOTEN INSERTED.

409. LINCOLN (ABRAHAM). A COLLECTION OF LETTERS AND DOCUMENTS BY AND TO ABRAHAM LINCOLN MAINLY DURING THE CIVIL WAR PERIOD, PORTRAITS AND PHOTOGRAPHS OF LINCOLN AND HIS FAMILY, BROADSIDES, GENERAL ORDERS, PETITIONS TO LINCOLN, NUMEROUS LETTERS TO HIM; OTHER LETTERS (WITH PORTRAITS) OF STATESMEN AND SOLDIERS DURING THE WAR, AND A LETTER OF MARY TODD LINCOLN, HIS WIFE (very rare). Over 250 items in two folio volumes, bound in half morocco, and lettered "Lincoln, No. I and No. II." The Lincoln material is as follows:

A. L. S., 1 p. 8vo, Springfield, Ill., Mch. 14, 1860. [First Presidential Campaign.]

"Your request to take a photographic likeness of me was duly received, but at a time when my engagements were so many that I could not call upon you."

L. S., 1 p. 8vo, Executive Mansion, Sep. 30, 1862, WRITTEN BY JOHN HAY AND SIGNED BY LINCOLN: "Give William Johnson two days leave of absence, etc." Johnson was a messenger in the Treas. Dpt., employed at the desire of Mrs. Lincoln, and when required at the White House, the President was accustomed to send a request similar to the above.

A. L. S., 1 p. 8vo, Executive Mansion, Dec. 25, 1863.

TO BAYARD TAYLOR: "I think a good lecture or two on 'Serfs, Serfdom and Emancipation in Russia' would be both interesting and valuable. Could you not get up such a thing?"

Autograph Endorsement signed: Sep. 12, 1861, relating to a military storekeeper.

WAR TELEGRAM to the Collector of New York, in Lincoln's hand, but not signed, with an endorsement underneath by the Asst. Secty. of the Treasury that it was written by Lincoln in his presence.

"If any vessel has been cleared from New York for Mobile within the year send by mail immediately copies of every paper and entry you have about it. If no such clearance has been given, simply say 'No' by telegraph."

A. L. S., 1 p. 8vo, August, 1863, IN BEHALF OF A DESERTER.

To Gen. Stoneman, in behalf of E. S. Doty: "Whose friends do not know where he is but fear he has been executed, or is under sentence of death somewhere as a deserter. Records in these cases do not necessarily come, & in this case none is here—Please ascertain, and inform me if you can how the case stands. Yours truly, A. Lincoln."

Short endorsement on an empty envelope: "Submitted to the Secty of the Treasury. A. Lincoln, Aug. 23, 1864," (relating to the Swenson petition to be paid Texas Coupons).

L. S., 4to, Washington, Dec. 18, 1861, appointment of George Harrington Secty. of the Treasury pro tem. in place of S. P. Chase, absent from Washington.

A. D. S., (legal) in a suit for trespass, Sangamon Co., Ill., 1841. 2 pp., folio, signed "Lincoln p. q." twice, with endorsement on fourth page.

*VERY FINE EARLY DOCUMENT ENTIRELY IN LINCOLN'S HAND.

A. D. S., (legal) in a trespass suit, two full folio pages, signed "Lincoln & Herndon p. q.," Sangamon County, Ill., 1850. ENTIRELY IN LINCOLN'S HAND.

5 D. S., one 1863, A PARDON FOR ISAAC BAKER AND ROBERT FORD; the appointment of an aide for McClellan, 1862, signed by both Lincoln and Stanton; two relate to THE TREATY WITH GREAT BRITAIN FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF THE SLAVE TRADE, Mch. 5 and 7, 1863; and one of July 25, 1863, is the confirmation of a consular appointment, signed with Seward, etc.

A. L. S. OF HIS WIFE, MARY TODD LINCOLN (very rare), written in 1867, 3 pp. 8vo, in which she mentions her bereavement and Lincoln. The letter is one of condolence to Hon. Henry Wilson, on the death of a son, written on mourning paper dated Chicago, Ill., January 3, 1867: "Bowed down as I am with my own fearful bereavement, I cannot refrain from an expression of my heartfelt sympathy—Time has as yet brought me no consolation, etc. I remember well hearing my beloved husband speak of your dear son with great commendation." The letter is signed "Mary Lincoln."

MS. of Lincoln's reply to a serenade on the night of July 4th (undated, but evidently during the war), not in Lincoln's hand, but very interesting as an impromptu expression of his sentiments. Such expressions are rarely preserved, and are valuable in consequence.

27 Portraits of Lincoln and his family, including card photographs of himself, his wife, and another with Tad, folio mezzotints, scarce colored lithographs, his death-mask painted on canvas, two Timothy Cole woodcuts, rare engraved portraits, including the two in profile, etc.

A. L. S. of Webster to Lincoln (1849) concerning A PATENT WHICH LINCOLN HAD APPLIED FOR TO ASSIST IN FLOATING STRANDED VESSELS, with a lithographic view of the appliance (Lincoln's model is now in the U. S. Patent office).

Upwards of 50 Letters and Portraits of distinguished statesmen and soldiers of the Civil War, including JOHN HAY, JOHN G. NICOLAY, MORGAN, SPINNER, LYNCH, STONE, FESSENDEN, GEN. BUTLER, SHERMAN, WADSWORTH, etc. Nearly 50 petitions to Lincoln endorsed by his cabinet officers, etc.; a petition to Johnson; upwards of 125 Letters to Lincoln and other correspondence of the Civil War period; a few political broadsides, including contemporary copies of the Farewell Address and the Gettysburg speech; a colored poster of "Emancipation in Maryland"; 7 General Orders, including the Emancipation Proclamation, and a mourning broadside announcing Lincoln's Death.

*AS MAY BE SEEN, THE LINCOLN MATERIAL IN THIS COLLECTION IS PARTICULARLY FINE, AND IT IS GETTING MORE AND MORE DIFFICULT TO GET TOGETHER LETTERS AND DOCUMENTS RELATING TO THE CIVIL WAR PERIOD.

410. LITERARY AUTOGRAPHS. Album containing a fine selection of about 40 Letters and Cards from prominent French Authors, Dramatists, Artists, Novelists, Critics, and men of letters in general. They include signed letters from Alexandre Dumas, Maxime Ducamps, De Vogée, Taine, Doucet, Richebourg, Fleury, Herve, Montegut, Malot, Magnard, Achard, Leroy, Liegard, etc. Bound in small folio, half levant morocco, tops gilt, uncut.

426. MEREDITH (GEORGE). Works in Verse and Prose. Etched portrait. Constable's finely printed Edition de Luxe. Complete set. 32 vols. 8vo, buckram, uncut, top edges gilt, IN THE FINEST STATE.

Westminster: Constable, 1896-98

* This lovely edition, produced with every evidence of typographical skill, is strictly limited to an issue of 1025 numbered copies; surely a restricted number for an author whose admirers girdle the world, and whose works command a place of honor in every library worthy of the name.

427. MERRY SONGS AND BALLADS (a complete anthology of English, Scots and Irish Lyrics prior to the year 1800). Compiled and edited by John S. Farmer. 5 vols. small 4to, original boards, uncut.

[Lond.]: Privately Printed for Subscribers only, 1897

* The most extraordinary collection of ballads and songs (usually omitted in collected editions of old-time ballads and songs) ever published, and here presented in their original un-mutilated form. The selection contains specimens by most of the leading dramatists and song writers, as well as hundreds of songs HERE FIRST PUBLISHED from original MS., including the Harleian, Petyt, and other noted collections now in British libraries. Only a small number were printed, and it is now VERY SCARCE.

428. MEXICO. Diaz del Castillo (Bernal). Historia Verdadera de la Conquista de la Nueva-España. Fine architectural engraved title, with a small view of the city of Mexico in the lower part. Folio, full blue levant morocco gilt, gilt tooled back and inside borders, gilt edges, by PRATT.

Madrid: Empronta del Reyno, 1632

* Second issue with the addition of chapter ccxii (numbered ccxxii), and as rare as the first. Bernal Diaz was the companion of Cortes in adventures and battles. Prescott and Ticknor each award Diaz great praise; and a writer in the "Athenæum" characterizes the work as "the most trustworthy of the narrators of this conquest." "The true history of the conquest of Mexico is, indeed, a delightful work, and the only account of that transaction on which we can rely."—SOUTHEY.

429. MEXICO. Villa-Señor y Sanchez (D. Joseph Antonio de). Theatro Americano, descripcion general de los Reynos, y provincias de la Nueva España, y sus Jurisdicciones. Fronts. (that of Vol. 1 missing). 2 vols. small folio, full blue levant morocco extra, gilt double triple line borders on the sides, with fleurons in the corners, gilt tooled back and inside borders, gilt edges, by NIÉDRÉE.

Mexico: Por la viuda de J. B. de Hogal, 1746-8

* Villa-Señor was a native Mexican and cosmographer of New Spain. The notices relating to the population of the Mexican villages were written from official reports of the magistrates of the districts. The author (says Brasseur de Bourbourg) was known as a distinguished mathematician and an exact historian. This work is exceedingly rare, especially in this country.

The Writings of John Milton, including a First Edition of "Paradise Regain'd."

THE RARE FIRST EDITION IN ORIGINAL CALF.

430. MILTON (JOHN). Paradise Regain'd, a Poem in IV Books; to which is added Samson Agonistes; the Extremely Rare First Edition, and in the most perfect state of preservation. Small 8vo, IN THE ORIGINAL CALF. FINE, CLEAN, TALL COPY. Fine state. Lond.: Printed by J. M. Starkey at Mitre in Fleet Street, near Temple-Bar, 1671.

* Such a fine copy as this seldom occurs for sale, and the lapse of every year is making the occasion rarer. It is quite perfect, containing the rare leaf bearing the official licence for printing the book; the equally rare leaf of errata in both poems; and the separate title-page to "Samson Agonistes," some or all of which leaves are missing from most of the copies now extant. In importance the work is second only to "Paradise Lost," and it has been said that Milton preferred it to that work. The leaf bearing the official licence is, in this case, more interesting than usual, for it is a record of a statutory obligation which roused Milton's indignation, and which inspired him to write that wonderful masterpiece of prose, "Areopagitica," which is an appeal to Parliament to abandon its intention to appoint an official censor, and thus destroy the perfect freedom of the Press.

THIRD EDITION OF "PARADISE LOST."

431. MILTON (JOHN). Paradise Lost: a Poem in Twelve Books. The author John Milton. THE THIRD EDITION. Revised and augmented by the author. Portrait of Milton by W. Doller. 8vo, sprinkled calf gilt, gilt edges.

Lond.: Printed by S. Simmons, 1678

* GOOD, SOUND COPY OF THE THIRD EDITION. RARE.

432. MILTON (JOHN). Poetical Works of Milton. With Life of the Author by William Hayley. Boydell's Magnificent Illustrated Edition, finely printed by Bulmer in exceedingly large and beautiful type, and illustr. with a series of finely engraved plates from paintings by Westall. 3 large vols. folio, full green contemporary morocco extra gilt, gilt edges. Lond. 1797

* Uniform with the works of Shakespeare printed for Boydell. See No. 516.

433. MILTON (JOHN). Poetical Works. Edited by Sir Egerton Brydges. Portrait, fronts. and a series of exquisitely engraved plates after Turner. In 6 vols. 12mo, beautifully bound in full crimson crushed levant, gilt tooled on back and sides, inside gold borders, gilt edges.

Lond.: Macrone, 1835

* Fine copy of the first issue of this dainty and beautiful edition. Preserved in cloth case.

434. MILTON (JOHN). Paradise Lost. With illusts. by John Martin. Large 8vo, full brown levant morocco, covered with fine tooling on sides and back, inside gold borders, top gilt, uncut, by THIERRY. Lond.: Charles Tilt, 1838

* UNIQUE COPY, with the fine plates designed and engraved by Martin, and EXTRA-ILLUSTRATED with a beautiful set of fine illustrations designed and engraved by Richter, dedicated to his royal highness the Prince of Wales, and five different portraits of Milton.

435. MINIATURES. WILLIAMSON (G. C.). THE HISTORY OF PORTRAIT MINIATURES. 107 plates, containing beautiful reproductions by photography, same size, of 686 Miniature Paintings, from collections all over the world, by the most eminent artists of both sexes, and of every period, from the early examples upon Manuscripts, to the modern work of Alyn Williams, and others still living. 2 vols. thick impl. 4to, white buckram gilt, top edges gilt, others uncut.

Lond: Bell and Sons, 1904

*The number of 686 miniatures, large as it is, does not include the reverses of the locketts, &c., of the smaller ones, which are occasionally figured; and it should be noted that many of the paintings contain portraits of two or three persons, family groups, &c.

The edition consists of 520 copies only, and IT WILL NOT BE REPRINTED. It is so sumptuously produced, and it is such an exhaustive collection (in so far as excellent and historic work is concerned), that it would be absurd to expect it to be attainable after the lapse of a very brief period.

N. B.—“The Copyright of every illustration in this work is strictly reserved on behalf of the owner of the original miniature.”

The Text accompanying the Miniatures and its Index, Appendix, &c., occupy about 400 pp.; and it is only due to the author's knowledge of his subject, and infinite labor in tracing the pictures; in obtaining the permission of royal, aristocratic, and other wealthy owners; besides that of curators of Municipal Collections; to say that no such important work upon this charming class of art-works previously existed, or is likely to equal it in time to come.

THE RARE FIRST EDITION.

Rare Maps containing Views of New Amsterdam.

449. NEW YORK. Colored Map of what is now New York, Pennsylvania, a section of Virginia, and parts adjacent, entitled, "Novi Belgii Novaquæ Angliæ nec non partis Virginial Tabula, Mullis in locis emendata per Nicolaum Visscher." Containing at foot a View of New Amsterdam (New York City), with separate title "Nieuw Amsterdam op 't Eylant Manhattans." Size about $3 \times 12\frac{1}{4}$ inches. Dimensions of the whole about $18 \times 21\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

* This is what is known as the Second View of New Amsterdam, representing the city as it appeared about the year 1656, or earlier. It is from a plate engraved by N. J. Visscher [ca. 1650], retouched and corrected here and there by Nicolas Visscher about 1690. In this issue have been added the names of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, etc., and others which appear in this edition only, viz.: Nieu Casteel, one of the names of Fort Christina, etc. FINE COPY, WITH GOOD MARGINS. RARE.

450. NEW YORK. Colored Map of New York, etc., with title, "Recens edita totius Novi Belgii in America Septentrionali siti delineatio cura et sumptibus Tob. Cour. Lotteri, Sac. Caes. Maj. Geographi August Vind." Containing a View of New Amsterdam—"Nue Jorck sive Neu Amsterdam." Size, about $3\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$. Dimensions of the whole, $19\frac{1}{2} \times 22\frac{1}{2}$.

* This is a copy of Danckers' Map, with the view of New Amsterdam from one of the editions of Allard's plate, representing the city about the year 1673. FINE COPY. Scarce.

451. NEW YORK. Colored Map of New York, etc., entitled "Recens Editata totius Novi Belgii, in America Septentrionali siti delineatio cura et sumptibus Matthæi Seuteri, Sac. Caes. Maj. Geographi August Vind." With view at foot, "Nue Jorck sive Neu Amsterdam." Size about $3\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ inches. Dimensions of the whole, $19\frac{1}{2} \times 22\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

* In this map the old view of New Amsterdam has been replaced by one of more recent date (1673), which was probably engraved by ROMEYN DE HOOGHE, representing the city at the time of its recapture by the Dutch in 1673. This is known as the "Third" View of New Amsterdam, or Allard's View.

All the prominent buildings and places on this long, narrow plate are lettered, and a key in Latin supplies an index to the various localities displayed. Asher does not appear to have been able to see a copy of this map. SCARCE.

452. NEW YORK. Colored Map, similar to the above, with title, "Novi Belgii Novaquæ Angliæ nec non Pennsylvaniae et Partis Virginiae Tabula, multis in locis emendata a Iusto Danckers." With view of New Amsterdam (New York City), entitled, "Nieuw Jorck, eertij geneamt Nieuw Amsterdam op't Eylant Manhattans." Size, $2\frac{7}{8} \times 12$ inches. Dimensions of the whole, about $18\frac{3}{4} \times 22$ inches (slightly repaired at fold).

* This map by Joost Danckers is believed to have been published about the end of the Seventeenth Century. The plate from which it is produced, however, is thought to have been engraved at a much earlier period (1650-56), as there are indications which prove that the more recent names (Philadelphia being designated as a large town) are to be considered as among the additions made upon it.

The view of New Amsterdam is therefore the same as N. J. Visscher's "Second View" of the town, made about 1650. RARE.

453. NEW YORK. NIEU AMSTERDAM, een Stedeken in Noord Amerikaes Nieu Hollant, op het eilant Mankattan: namaels NIEU JORK genaemt, to en het geraekte in 't gebiet der Engelschen. Schenk, (to the right) Amsteld, C. P. View from the bay, with ships and small craft in sight. Dimensions of the plate mark, exclusive of margins, $7\frac{6}{8} \times 10\frac{1}{8}$ inches. Fine, clean impression, with good margins

* Asher, in his list of the views of New Amsterdam, states that this is the only separate view of New Amsterdam he had ever seen. He designates it as a copy of Allard's engraving, and informs us that, "Like all other engravings of Schenck, this one was executed between the years 1690 and 1700, and most likely was published in some of the various collections of views of different cities, published by him." A FINE EXAMPLE OF THIS RARE PRINT.

"And still she clings to Ida of her dreams."

This line, in the present copy, has been supplied in the author's autograph.

Misfortune.	Elegy.

The Capt. Kidd "Account" is of extreme interest, and relates how the Earl of Bellomont, who was Gov. of New York, with the consent of the King (who was to have a tenth share of the profit), organized and equipped the "Adventure Galley" for the purpose of acting against the pirates, who at this time infested the coasts of N. America. Capt. Kidd was appointed to the command. Instead of capturing the pirates, Kidd himself turned pirate, and was afterwards taken by order of the English authorities at Boston, sent to England and hung with others of his kind.

469. PIRATES. Rogers (Captain Woodes). A Cruising Voyage round the World, first to the South-Seas, thence to the East-Indies, and homewards by the Cape of Good Hope, begun in 1708 and finished in 1711, containing a Journal of all the remarkable transactions, particularly the taking of Puna and Guaiquil — an Account of ALEXANDER SELKIRK'S LIVING ALONE FOUR YEARS and four months in an Island, etc.—with Introduction relating to the South-Sea Trade. * FINE COPY. SCARCE. This expedition, fitted out by Dampier, who accompanied it as Pilot, produced £170,000, half of which belonged to the proprietors. They surprised Puna and Guayaquil and got much booty, took several prizes, and sailing towards Acapulco captured the Spanish galleon; also, a rich ship from Manila, off the coast of California.

From the proceeds of this voyage, Rogers rented the Bahama Islands from the lords' proprietors for twenty-one years.

The famous Selkirk was rescued from his lonely habitation and appointed by Rogers as mate of his ship.

Lond. 1735

*VERY SCARCE. The account of the capture by the Pirate ships "Two Brothers" and "Rhode Island," commanded by Captain Johnson, etc., is of great interest. Part II is an entirely different work, and reads: "A Briefe Discoverye of some things best worth Noteinge in the Travels of Nicholas Withington, a Factor in the East Indiase, Lond. 1734," with full accounts of the "Shippes" and "Fightes," etc., etc.

POE'S AL-AARAAF. ORIGINAL EDITION.

473. POE (EDGAR A.). AL-AARAAF, TAMERLANE AND MINOR POEMS. 8vo, original terra-cotta colored boards, cloth back, few leaves uncut at lower edges (the sheets having become loose, have been skilfully tightened in the original covers, with end papers, of the same period and texture, supplied).

*THE EXCESSIVELY RARE ORIGINAL EDITION. The poem Al-Aaraaf as here first printed differs verbally, in several places, from the version now in circulation, though the poem Tamerlane, which follows it in this collection, has been entirely rewritten, the author stating in the advertisement that the piece in its first form (Boston, 1827) was "suppressed through circumstances of a private nature." Of the nine miscellaneous poems at the end, with the exception of the first and part of the eighth, all have been reprinted in the poet's collected works. The first of these, headed "To ————" has never been reprinted in full. The third stanza, contains the germ of the poem, "A Dream within a Dream," issued at a later period.

It is interesting to note that while this is the author's second published volume, it contains his Tamerlane (his first printed poem) in an entirely new form, being here an original version rather than a second printing of the piece.

The excessive rarity of Poe's earlier volumes has become proverbial among collectors, and they are, and are likely ever to remain, among the most treasured items of American poetry. The untoward circumstances attending their first publication, the tragic and pathetic fate of the author and those of his immediate family, his brilliant achievements and future fame, coming all too late to give more than a passing "surcease of sorrow" to the unhappy poet, have all conspired to render him at once the most picturesque and unique figure in American letters and to invest his works with an almost irresistible charm to the literary collector.

The present copy contains the unpagged leaf (pp. 12-13) containing a poem of 14 verses, commencing "Science! Meet daughter of old Time," etc., which has been described as an unique feature.

HE HAD A LARGE COLLECTION OF HEBREW EARLY PRINTED BOOKS. Some leaves with very small worm-holes, otherwise a fine and perfect copy.

Daniel Bomberg, a Christian, was a native of Antwerp. He was the most celebrated printer of Hebrew books in the XVth Century, and his industry in the printing of Hebrew Bibles is perhaps without a parallel. He studied Hebrew under Felix Pratensis, a converted Jew, and settled in business at Venice. The Bibles that he published, with the Targums, Rabbinical Commentaries, and the Masorah, are truly magnificent. He is said to have retained 100 Jews, the most learned he could find, as correctors of the press. He was also assisted by Cornelius Adelkind, a very erudite Jew. Bomberg died at Venice in 1549.

The work, with its colored plates, illustrations and title-pages on Japan paper, and its beautiful binding, will make a noteworthy addition to any fine library.

Reade, next to Dickens, has done more towards bringing to the attention of the public the existing abuses than any other, and his famous novel, "It is Never Too Late to Mend," was the first instance of the employment of fiction to expose social abuses.

Turner and Stothard*, each volume is FIRST EDN, BRILLIANT PROOF IMPRESSIONS. 3 vols. 8vo, very handsomely bound by DE SAUTY, in deep blue crushed levant morocco extra, with inlays of red levant ornamental and floral gilt sides, gilt edge. 492. ROMANS (BERNARD). ANNALS OF THE TROUBLES IN THE NETHERLANDS. From the Accession of Charles V. Emperor of Germany. In four parts. Collected and Translated from the most approved Historians in the Native Tongue. 2 vols. small 4to, original sheep. Hartford, 1778-82

*Dr. Samuel A. Green, in his "Ten Facsimile Reproductions Relating to Various Subjects," Boston, 1903, says: "Volume 1 of this work is believed to be the first book of more than a hundred pages printed in Hartford. Volume II., published in 1782, is of excessive rarity, so rare, indeed, that Duyckinck, in his 'Cyclopædia of American Literature' (I., 318), says that it was never printed."

In James Hammond Trumbull's list of Connecticut imprints, published by the Acorn Club, the title is entered but he gives a collation of Vol. I. only. He states that Vol. II. was published in 1783, and refers to a notice in the Connecticut Courant for February 11 of that year, where the book is advertised for sale. From this it would seem as if he had never seen a copy of Volume II., nevertheless, there was a copy in the Brinley Library in the catalogue of which the date of Vol. II. is correctly given as 1782. The copy contained the following note in Mr. Brinley's handwriting: "During twenty-five years of book-collecting I have never seen a copy, and I have never heard of but one to which my attention was called by the late E. B. Corwin. It is in the library of the New York Historical Society.—G. B."

Vol. I. has imprint Watson and Goodwin, and Vol. II. Hudson and Goodwin.

“If hope grew on a bush,
And joy grew on a tree,
What a nosegay for the plucking
There would be!
But oh! in windy Autumn,
When frail flowers wither,
What should we do for hope and joy Fading together?”

signed (Christina G. Rossetti.)

Also with an envelope in the autograph of W. M. Rossetti laid in.

AUTOGRAPH PRESENTATION COPY FROM THE AUTHOR, AND

*AUTOGRAPH PRESENTATION COPY FROM THE AUTHOR WITH INSCRIPTION

“*To Alice Wilding
from her old friend
D. G. Rossetti
1875*”

and with an additional feature of the GREATEST INTEREST, A ONE-PAGE AUTOGRAPH LETTER TO ROSSETTI FROM JOHN RUSKIN, and COUNTER-SCRIBED BY ROSSETTI TO HIS BROTHER WILLIAM.

The letter (which is one page 8vo, undated, but probably circa 1875) reads:

“Dear Rossetti
What is the exact meaning of ‘di mano in mano’ in Leonardo’s first chapter, I’ve always read Italian carelessly merely to get at the main import, and now I am constantly stumbling on phrases I am not sure of . . . William (Rossetti) has been sending me some nice books lately. I hope to see you both when I’ve done that Oxford work . . .
Ever yours affecty. J. Ruskin.”

On the top of the letter IN THE AUTOGRAPH OF DANTE GABRIEL ROSSETTI TO HIS BROTHER WILLIAM IS:

“Dear W.:
“Have you got the book & if so can you attend to this for Ruskin.”

It is an interesting fact THAT JOHN RUSKIN PAID FOR THE PUBLICATION OF THE ABOVE WORK.

Lond. 1685

* Portrait mounted with written inscription over the verses of Ben Jonson, "Gentle Shakespear"; writing on the back of portrait and title and on a few leaves; small pieces from some blank lower margins torn off, and several blank margins slightly torn; several leaves water-stained or spotted with ink, and leaves 231-303 of the Third Part, with a large stain throughout; a few leaves torn; leaf 65 of First Part with a small hole damaging one word; pp. 105-106 of Part II, torn in the lower part with damage to some words of the last seven lines of first volume and corresponding column; page 231 of Part II torn in the lower part, with damage of one word to the first column; the last leaf mounted; otherwise a sound and complete copy, measuring $13\frac{1}{2}$ by $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

The Fourth Folio is an exact reprint of the Third Folio (printed twenty years before), save a difference in the type and size of pages. This edition was printed at the expense of Henry Herringman, the friend of Dryden. The text is in three parts, and, from the variation in capital letters and type, was evidently given to three different printers to set up. There are three different title-pages of this Fourth Folio, but the above has the title in its earliest form, and the only form recorded in the "Term Catalogue" of May, 1685.

The book comes from an old Virginia Family, and bears the autograph and manuscript notes of Wm. M. Burwell and Wm. McCreery.

Bysshe Shelley, including "Queen Mab," in the original boards, and "Epipsychidion" in its original state, both containing Shelley's Writing.

WITH SHELLEY'S AUTOGRAPH PRESENTATION INSCRIPTION.

521. SHELLEY (PERCY BYSSHE). Queen Mab: a Philosophical Poem. With Notes. FIRST EDN. Post 8vo, original boards, uncut. Lond.: Printed by P. B. Shelley, 23 Chapel Street, Grosvenor Square, 1813.

* On the fly-leaf is inscribed in the poet's autograph: "With the Author's Comp'ts."

A matchless copy; having the Title, Dedication to Harriet, and last page (240) with Shelley's imprint, all three without any of the mutilations usually present, when those leaves or any of them are there, which is rarely the case. The volume is in immaculate condition, the boards without a break, and tight as when first from the original binder's hands. THE EXTREMELY RARE FIRST EDITION, containing Shelley's name as the printer on the title-page, and also his name in the imprint on the last page, and with the dedication "To Harriet." OF THE GREATEST RARITY IN THIS CONDITION, the very few copies that are in existence having in nearly every instance the name of the author in these two places cut out by Shelley himself, and some copies also without the dedication. It is said that the poet only printed 250 copies of this edition, and it is not well understood why he defaced the copies by cutting out his name, as even those he presented to his most intimate friends—his future wife, Mary Godwin, for instance—were mutilated, though in this particular case he left the dedication.
The exceptional condition of this copy can be easily seen, which is in the original boards and uncut. Very few books of such rarity can be described as having all the collector's "points," as in this example. In addition to this it is a presentation copy.

This is protected doubly against injury; firstly, by a silk loose wrapper; and, secondly, by enclosure within a beautifully made book-fashioned drop-case of blue levant morocco extra, the back-panels inlaid and gold-tooled with leaves and central flowers, sides gold-tooled with right-angled lines, trefoil corners, and small ruby inlaid circles, four on each side.

FIRST EDITION.

523. SHELLEY (PERCY BYSSHE). The Revolt of Islam: a Poem in Twelve Cantos. FIRST EDN. 8vo, newly and handsomely bound in full blue crushed and polished levant, gilt edges, by RIVIERE.

Lond.: Printed for C. and J. Ollier, 1818

* A VERY FINE COPY. Contains the rare half-title after page XXXII.—which Buxton Forman, the eminent Shelley authority, said that he only knew of the existence of a few copies—and the leaf of errata. As is well known, this is really "Laon and Cyntha," with a new title and a few alterations, which Ollier, the publisher, refused to sell when only a few copies had been disposed of.

IN THE ORIGINAL BOARDS, WITH THE LABEL.

524. SHELLEY (PERCY BYSSHE). Prometheus Unbound. A Lyrical Drama, in Four Acts; with Other Poems. FIRST EDN. 8vo, boards, uncut, with the label. In full levant slip case. Lond.: Ollier, 1820

* An exceptionally fine copy, very scarce in such condition with the half-title, and two leaves of advertisements at end.

Has the very interesting note on the fly-leaf:—"I bought this book in 1885 of Wilson the bookseller in King William Street [London]. He had it of a Miss Rumble, housekeeper of Shelley's friends, the Gisbornes. Chas. Hargrove, Leeds."

Chas. Hargrove is a well-known Unitarian minister, and an ardent book-lover and collector.

AN EXCEEDINGLY RARE SHELLEY ITEM, AUTOGRAPHED BY THE AUTHOR.

525. SHELLEY (PERCY BYSSHE). Epipsychidion: Verses Addressed to the Noble and Unfortunate Lady Emilia V———. Now imprisoned in the Convent of ——-. 8vo, WITH THE HALF-TITLE (usually missing) IN THE VERY RARE ORIGINAL STATE AS ISSUED, sewn, enclosed in a red silk folding sheath within a full crimson levant pull-off case. WITH AUTOGRAPH "P. B. SHELLEY" ON TITLE. Lond. 1821

* It will be remembered that this strange and wonderful poem was composed by Shelley (according to Mrs. Shelley's classification) in 1821, the year before his drowning on the homeward voyage from Leghorn; and that the "unfortunate lady" was Emilia Viviani, then in the Convent of St. Anne, Pisa.

THE AUTOGRAPH SIGNATURE OF "P. B. SHELLEY" (AUTHENTICATED BEYOND DOUBT THROUGH COMPARISONS WITH AUTOGRAPH SIGNATURES AND HOLOGRAPH LETTERS) OCCURRING UPON the title-page, LENDS IMMENSE ADDITIONAL SIGNIFICANCE to this momentous item; for the secret of the authorship, at the time so carefully guarded, would naturally render the acknowledgment by signature (to some trusted friend, as doubtless in this case) a matter of great precaution.

As a matter of purely literary and personal interest, outside the realms of bibliography, the marvellous seascape descriptions in the great poem, and the allusion to the alleged author (in the introduction) as about to have started upon a voyage to the Sporades, seem, along with many similar allusions in Shelley's poetry, to be portents of his own last days spent in the little yacht, and of his death as the result of its wreck among the waves of Specia.

It may be mentioned that a rebound copy was offered in a booksellers' catalogue last year at $550.00.

PROBABLY THE MOST INTERESTING COPY EXTANT, AND THE ONLY COPY IN THE ORIGINAL WRAPPERS OFFERED FOR PUBLIC SALE IN AMERICA.

[See Reproduction.]

526. SHELLEY (PERCY BYSSHE). Posthumous Poems. FIRST EDN. 8vo, full crushed blue levant morocco extra, gilt top. Lond.: John and Henry L. Hunt, 1824

* A lovely copy of the First Edition, with a preface by Mrs. Shelley, in which, with a fine reticence, the bereaved wife touches upon the terrible event of Shelley's death.

IN ORIGINAL CLOTH, WITH THE LABEL.

527. SHELLEY (PERCY BYSSHE). The Masque of Anarchy: a Poem. Now first published, with a Preface by Leigh Hunt. 16mo, original cloth, with paper label, uncut. VERY FINE COPY, with leaf of advertisements.

Lond.: Edward Moxon, 1832

* FIRST EDITION, rare. Although written in 1819, and sent to Leigh Hunt for publication, it was not printed until 1832.

528. [SHERIDAN (RICHARD BRINSLEY).] The School for Scandal, a Comedy; as it is performed at the Theatre-Royal in Drury Lane. 12mo, original old calf (neatly rebacked, name on title), pp. 72.

Dublin: Printed in the Year MDCCCLXXXI [1781]

* It is generally understood that no edition of the famous play was printed prior to this date (1781). The Ewling edition bears no date, and gives no indication of the details of the play's performance. Another edition, bearing date of 1781, gives the Irish cast as performed at the Crown Street Theatre, while the one now presented gives the LONDON cast. Although it is impossible to say, definitely, which edition takes precedence as to date of publication, it seems likely that with the éclat which accompanied its remarkably successful presentation at Drury Lane, such a bright manager as Mr. Ryder would naturally take advantage of it and use in the publication of the play in Dublin. IT IS BELIEVED THAT NO COPY OF THIS EDITION HAS PREVIOUSLY BEEN OFFERED FOR SALE.

UNCUT COPY.

529. SHERIDAN (RICHARD BRINSLEY). Pizarro: a Tragedy, in five acts, as performed at the Theatre-Royal, taken from the German Drama of Kotzebue and adapted to the English stage. FIRST EDN. A FINE UNCUT COPY. 8vo, handsomely bound, by RIVIERE, in full crushed crimson morocco, super extra, inside dentelles, gilt top, UNCUT (inner margin of the title skilfully repaired). Lond. 1796

* EXTREMELY RARE IN THIS CHOICE STATE, WITH THE EDGES UNCUT. The Epilogue was spoken by Mrs. Jordan.

[SEE No. 531.]

IN ORIGINAL WRAPPERS, UNCUT.

530. SHERIDAN (RICHARD BRINSLEY). Clio's Protest; or, "The Picture" Varnished. With Other Poems. First Collected Edition. 8vo, original blue paper cover, UNCUT. Lond.: Printed for Joseph Arnold, 1819

* First Collected Edition, and very rare in this state. Published after Sheridan's death. There are four poems by Sheridan in the volume, of which the Editor says: "'Clio's Protest' and the 'Ridotto' were delivered by Mr. Sheridan himself, when a resident at Bath to the late Mr. Crutwell, the proprietor of the Bath Chronicle, for the purpose of publication in that Journal, so far back as the year 1771. A copy sold for £12.0.0 at Sotheby's, last year.

531. SILVER BINDING. Missale juxta ritum Ecclesie Romane. Engraved device on the title of the printer, and many woodcuts in the text. Thick small 8vo. Paris, 1555

* One of the Missals issued about this period in France and prized for the beauty of their printing and illustrations. Printed in red and black, with the notation. The binding is of maroon velvet covered—both back and sides—with heavy silver, the back solid with figures and scroll work in relief, the sides perforated in a tracery of leaf and scroll work, with heads of cherubs in relief at the corners and centre. In fine condition.

Vienna, 1520

* This rare and celebrated edition of Solinus, with the map, is one of the most important desiderata in an American library. The book is usually seen without the map, as was the case in the Sunderland copy. The map was generally regarded until lately as the first printed map in which the name of America made its appearance. It is called a delineation of the entire world, prepared according to the teaching of Ptolemy, the cosmographer, and the voyage of Americus Vespucius and others, by Peter Apian of Leissing: HARRISSE, B. A.V., no, 108.

WITH AUTOGRAPHS OF THE AUTHOR.

540. [STERNE (LAURENCE).] The Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy, Gentleman. THE RARE FIRST EDN. (with the exception of Vols. 1-2, which are both third edns.). 2 plates by Hogarth. 9 vols. in 5, 12mo, contemporary full calf. Lond. 1760-67

* VOLUMES 5 AND 7 ARE AUTOGRAPHED BY THE AUTHOR. The history in brief of one of the most extraordinary books of its time may be of interest. The author read the original MS. of portions of Vols. 1-2 to friends at Stillington Hall one evening after dinner, and they were so bored that they all fell asleep, and Sterne is said to have flung the MS. into the fire where it was luckily rescued by his host. The first two vols. were published and were an instantaneous success, Garrick, Walpole and other eminent personages of the period being among the many admirers of the work. It was on the strength of the success of this work that the collection of Sterne's Sermons was published. Sterne, about this time, was paid so much by his publisher that he declared "he was the richest man in Europe."

541. STERNE (LAURENCE). The Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy, Gentleman. 8 etchings by Damman, after original designs by Harry Furniss. 2 vols. 8vo, cloth and labels, uncut. Lond.: Nimmo, 1883

* First Editions. Very rare. The numbers contain 6 original contributions by Stevenson, including "Philosophy of Umbrellas," "College Papers," "Old Scotch Gardener," etc. The authorship of the contributions—which are anonymous—are designated by G. Stronach, Esq., a fellow student, whom Stevenson asked to look over the proofs. Enclosed in morocco solander case.

Stoddard's Lectures. Illust. and embellished with views of the world's famous places and people, being the identical discourses delivered during the past eighteen years under the title of the Stoddard Lectures. 10 vols. large 8vo, cloth, paper labels, gilt tops, uncut. Bost. 1898

* STODDARD EDITION water-marked on every page, limited to 500 copies (this being No. 173) and AUTOGRAPHED BY JOHN L. STODDARD. The frontispieces are on Japanese vellum paper.

CHOICE COPY OF THE FIRST EDITION.

545. STOWE (HARRIET BEECHER). Uncle Tom's Cabin; or, Life among the Lowly. THE SCARCE FIRST EDITION. With illusts. 2 vols. 12mo, newly and beautifully bound in three-quarter russet crushed levant morocco, gilt extra on backs and sides, gilt edges. Bost. 1852

* AN EXCEEDINGLY CHOICE COPY of one of the most remarkable books in the whole range of American literature, the sales of which since its first publication have amounted to an enormous number of copies.

A most interesting feature regarding the writing of this work has just come to light. It is stated by the Rev. Charles E. Stowe (the son of Harriet Beecher Stowe) that his mother received the idea of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in a vision which she had in church, and in which she saw clearly depicted the death of "Uncle Tom."

He says his mother began the story with this scene, writing the book backward.

FINE COPY OF THE RARE FIRST EDITION.

546. SUCKLING (JOHN). Fragmenta Aurea. A Collection of all the Incomparable Peeeces, written by Sir John Suckling, and published by a Friend to perpetuate his memory. Printed by his owne copies. With the VERY RARE and fine portrait of the author, surrounded with laurels, engraved by William Marshall. 8vo, full panelled calf gilt, gilt edges, by WOOD. Lond.: Printed for Humphrey Moseley, 1646

* THE VERY RARE FIRST EDITION. Pages 29-30 contain "A SUPPLEMENT OF AN IMPERFECT COPY OF VERSES OF MR. WIL. SHAKESPEARS, BY THE AUTHOR," the first nine lines of which are from the Rape of Lucrece. For other mentions of the poet see pp. 35 and 61, and p. 45 of the Goblins; and for additional allusions Ingleby's and Furnivall's Prayse of Shakespeare.

TALL COPY WITH AMPLE MARGINS.

548. SURTEES (ROBERT SMITH). A MAGNIFICENT SET of his Leech and "Phiz" Illustrated Sporting Novels; (Five), as follows: "Mr. Sponge's Sporting Tour," 1853; "Handley Cross," 1854; "Ask Mamma," 1858; "Plain or Ringlets," 1860; "Mr. Facey Romford's Hounds," 1865. All of them very ably illustrated with 80 fully coloured humorous etchings in all, and numerous woodcuts, by John Leech and H. K. Browne ("Phiz"). All FIRST EDNS. 5 vols. thick 8vo, handsomely bound in full green levant morocco, backs and front covers decorated with emblems of the chase in gold, uncut, tops, gilt, and EACH VOLUME rendered still more complete by the binding in ONE OF THE PICTORIAL PART COVERS.

Lond.: Bradburys, 1853-65

* A particularly satisfactory copy in every respect. It is no wonder that this set enjoys such immense popularity.

All first editions and picked copies in fine condition throughout with brilliant impressions of Leech's masterly designs. The set has over 300 of John Leech's best sketches on wood and over 100 hand-colored steel engravings by the same matchless artist. This inimitable series of volumes is absolutely unique, there being nothing approaching it in all the wide range of modern or ancient literature. Written by Mr. Surtees, a well-known country gentleman, who was passionately devoted to the sport of fox-hunting and gifted with a keen spirit of manly humor of a Rabelaisian tinge, they abound with incidents redolent of mirth and jollity. The artist, Mr. Leech, was himself also an enthusiast in the sport, and has reflected in his illustrations, with instinctive appreciation, the rollicking abandon of the stories.

FIRST ISSUE OF FIRST EDITION.

549. [SWIFT (JONATHAN, Dean of St. Patrick's).] Travels into several Remote Nations of the World, by Lemuel Gulliver, first a Surgeon, and then a Captain of several Ships. FIRST EDN. CHOICE COPY, VERY RARE.

* The above is the genuine first edition, having a separate pagination to each part, and a most beautiful copy. The four parts, all First Editions, with the Volume and Part title, and the portrait with the name in the oval frame.

550. [SWIFT (JONATHAN).] Travels into Several Remote Nations of the World. By Lemuel Gulliver. Five etchings and a portrait by Ad. Lalauze. 8vo, cloth and label, uncut. Lond.: Nimmo, 1883

* LARGE PAPER. One of only 40 copies printed on handmade paper, with proof etchings on Japanese paper, for the American Market.

551. SWINBURNE (A. C.). The Question. A Poem. (MDCCCLXXXVII.) FIRST EDN. 12mo, pale green paper wrappers. Lond. 1887

* Twenty-five copies only are said to have been printed. The Question has been dropped by its author, and is not included in any of Mr. Swinburne's collected volumes, and, considering the controversial nature of the subject treated, it is in the highest degree improbable that it will ever be revived. It contains some bitter verses addressed to Mr. Gladstone.

552. SYLVESTER (JOSUAH). Du Bartas, his Devine Weekes and Workes translated: and dedicated to the Kings most excellent Majestie. Now thirdly corrected and augmented. Engraved title by W. Hole. Small 4to, full dark brown crushed levant morocco, gilt ornaments on sides and back, canary edges. Lond.: Humfrey Lownes, [1611]

* AT PP. 345-347 WILL BE FOUND INTERESTING REFERENCES TO AMERICA, AND ITS DISCOVERY BY COLUMBUS. The author finds the peopling of America before the arrival of Columbus a most intricate puzzle, but gives no solution of the problem.

The Writings of Alfred, Lord Tennyson, Some of Extreme Rarity.

553. TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). Poems. 2 vols. 12mo, sage green levant, doublure of brown levant inlaid with sprays of flowers and leaves in mosaic green silk fly-leaves, gilt tops, by TAFFIN.

Lond.: Edward Moxon, 1842

* First edition. Rare. Charming copy.

554. TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). In Memoriam. FIRST EDN. 12mo, original brown cloth, uncut, FINE COPY, SCARCE. Lond. 1850

* The writing of "In Memoriam" had been begun as far back as 1833, immediately after death of young Arthur Henry Hallam, to whom the poem is a most noble tribute.

TENNYSON'S OWN COPY, WITH AUTOGRAPH ON TITLE-PAGE.

555. TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). Maud, and Other Poems. FIRST EDN. 12mo, original cloth, uncut, with advertisements at both front and back. Lond.: Moxon, 1855

* TENNYSON'S OWN COPY, WITH HIS AUTOGRAPH—"Tennyson" on the title-page. An interesting and not generally known fact in this connection is, that after exhaustive research and examination of a remarkable private collection of Tennysonianana (all of which are autographed), reveals the fact that books that were owned by Tennyson ALL HAVE HIS AUTOGRAPH ON THE TITLE-PAGE, AND ALL ARE WRITTEN WITH THE WORD "TENNYSON" ONLY, and all books that were presented by him have the signed presentation inscription in full ON EITHER THE HALF-TITLE OR THE FLY-LEAF.

Enclosed in a handsome old rose crushed levant morocco solander case.

UNIQUE AND INTERESTING COPY OF TENNYSON'S "MAUD."

556. TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). Maud, and other Poems. 12mo, full blue levant, gold tooled back, inside borders, gilt top, uncut, by BRADSTREETS.

Lond.: Moxon, 1855

* First Edition. With a valuable and highly interesting Autograph Letter of Tennyson's inserted, to Bulkeley Platt, Schermerhorn St., Brooklyn: "I thank you for your letter & the newspaper extracts which you have been kind enough to send me. I have sometimes held that no one can read Maud but myself—giving the lyrist & the dramatic together—but very likely you can do it—only if you wish to read it to me if you be not quick enough about it as I am far advanced in my 52 years—perhaps I may not live to hear you. Yours truly, Tennyson." With envelope.

TENNYSON'S "HELEN'S TOWER," IN THE ORIGINAL GREEN WRAPPERS.

557. [TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD).] HELEN'S TOWER, Clandeboye. (Stanzas by Lady Gifford, WITH AN ORIGINAL POEM BY LORD TENNYSON.) Vignette (view of the Tower) on title. 4to, original green wrappers, gilt edges. EXTREMELY RARE.

[Clandeboye: Privately Printed, 1861]

*The poem in this publication by Tennyson was written at the request of the Marquis of Dufferin, for a tower built in memory of his mother Helen, Lady Dufferin, Countess of Gifford. The Lapham copy, containing a poem by Robert Browning entitled "Helen's Tower," sold in these rooms last December for $390.00.

Enclosed in green crushed levant morocco case, with inner protecting cover of green silk.

[See Reproduction.]

558. TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). Ode for the Opening of the International Exhibition by Alfred Tennyson, P.L., D.C.L. Small 8vo, UNCUT, IN THE ORIGINAL PINK WRAPPERS, AS ISSUED (in a straight-grain morocco slip case). Lond.: Edward Moxon & Co., Dover Street, 1862

*THE EXTREMELY RARE ORIGINAL EDITION. "One thousand copies of the 'Ode' were printed for sale (at the price of one shilling) at the Exhibition building. However, most of these thousand copies must have been destroyed at the time, as the pamphlet is now one of the scarcest of Tennyson's original editions, a mere handful of examples having been permitted to survive." This is the first copy which has ever been offered at public sale in America.

559. TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). Poems. MDCCCXXX. MDCCCXXXIII. Square 16mo, full orange levant morocco extra, with a gilt spray of flowers in the centre of both covers, gilt tooled inside borders, gilt edges, original wrappers bound in, by MERCIER.

Privately Printed, 1862

*This is Hotten's pirated volume, said by Mr. Wise to have been edited by J. Dykes Campbell, and to have been printed in the Island of Mauritius. It contains all of Tennyson's Poems, printed in the 1830 and 1833 editions, which were suppressed in the 1842 edition. In Hotten's Catalogue of 1862 he says: "the lost poems of the poet Laureate? These are choice poems that have been dropped or thrown aside by the poet. . . . They have been collected with considerable care and labor by a gentleman of great literary taste, in Western Canada. . . . It is understood that only an exceedingly limited number of copies have been taken off, most creditably in point of workmanship, at the Backwood's Press."

560. TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). Lucretius. Square 12mo, original cloth, uncut.

Cambridge, Mass.: Printed for Private Circulation, 1868

* FIRST EDITION. VERY RARE. This poem was published simultaneously in the United States and England, in Every Saturday (Boston) and in Macmillan's Magazine (London); but no separate issue having appeared in London, Mr. James T. Fields had only a few copies printed for the use of himself and friends. This edition contains a passage (enclosed in a parenthesis on page 20) which appears in Every Saturday but not in Macmillan, having been cancelled in the latter after the advance-sheets for the former had left the poet's hands.

561. TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). The Falcon. Small 8vo, full brown levant morocco gilt, gilt edges, by the CLUB BINDERY. Lond.: Printed for the Author, 1879

Lond.: Printed for Private Distribution, 1887

* The extremely rare author's Private Edition, of which it has been asserted that only 20 copies were printed. "The text of the Ode as printed in this private issue exhibits some interesting variations from the text as it appeared in the pages of Macmillan's Magazine. In order that these revisions, made after the April number of Macmillan's Magazine had gone to press, might be introduced, the poet caused a few corrected copies of the Ode to be struck off in pamphlet form." In a straight-grain morocco slip case.

563. TENNYSON (ALFRED, LORD). The Complete Works of Tennyson, together with a Memoir by His Son, in 4 vols. Portraits and illusts. on Japan paper. 10 vols. 8vo, half dark green crushed levant morocco, gilt tooled, gilt tops, by the ADAMS BINDERY. Lond. 1898

*This is quite complete, notwithstanding the "Vol. II" on the boards, and again on the title-page. "The Snob"—not conducted by Members of the University, being reckoned as Vol. I.—"The Gownsmen" consists of 17 numbers, from Nov. 5, 1829, to Feb. 25, 1830; with Title, Dedication "To All Proctors," Preface and Index.

Thackeray's identified contributions are: in No. 2, "Letter to the Editor" (from Dorothea Julia R[amsbottom]); in the same number, a Parody upon Haynes Bayley's "I'd be a Butterfly," entitled "Modern Songs, No. 5," commencing "I'd be a tadpole, born in a puddle." This is signed with his greek theta. Mr. Johnson says that they "are the only papers which can with certainty be attributed to Thackeray"; but the reader, acquainted with his earlier effusions, will pause long before other papers, and have them still in doubt.

THE COPY IS IN A MARVELLOUS STATE OF PRESERVATION, CLEAN AS NEW, and enclosed in a blue levant morocco solander case. The Snob and Gownsmen were priced recently by a New York Bookseller at $1,750.00.

acquaintance of Thackeray, and induced him to write a series of articles for his paper, The Corsair. They comprise: Letters from London, Paris, Pekin, Petersburg, etc.; Captain Rook and Mr. Pigeon; and A Ramble in the Picture Galleries, altogether nine articles, each of considerable length, signed "T. T." In the bibliography of Thackeray only four of the articles are mentioned, indicating clearly that the compiler had been unable to refer to a complete issue of the publication, and inferentially showing the great rarity of a set. THEY HAVE NEVER BEEN REPRINTED.

CONTAINING AN ORIGINAL COLORED DRAWING BY THACKERAY.

567. THACKERAY (WILLIAM M.). The Paris Sketch Book. By Mr. Titmarsh. FIRST EDN. With numerous designs by the author on copper and wood. 2 vols. post 8vo, full red crushed levant morocco, richly and artistically gold tooled, gilt tops, UNCUT, with the original cloth covers bound in, by RIVIERE. Lond. 1840

* One of the most difficult of Thackeray first editions to procure in desirable condition. UNIQUE COPY, CONTAINING AN ORIGINAL DRAWING BY THACKERAY AT PAGE 104, Vol. 2. The drawing is evidently an earlier state than the one which the author finally decided to use ["French Catholicism"], and is inserted to face the regular illustrations that go with the work. The original drawing DIFFERS MATERIALLY, HOWEVER, as it contains ONLY THREE FIGURES, AND WITH THE CHAIR EMPTY, while the illustration contains FIVE FIGURES, AND THE CHAIR OCCUPIED; also, one of the figures that appears in the drawing does not appear on the printed plate, and vice versa. The volumes enclosed in specially made cases.

WITH THREE UNPUBLISHED DRAWINGS BY THE AUTHOR.

As this Collection of Voyages was published in sections, covering a number of years, some parts having been reprinted, we give the above collation of this set, which is one of the best ever offered at auction in this country.

Misnumbered pages are frequent, but are not generally mentioned in the collation, nor have we enumerated the copper-plates printed with the text, which are scattered through the volumes. The space is blank on page 19 of the "Routier des Indes Orientales," as usual. According to the Lenox Collation no copy having the plate (a plan of Goa) printed in, is known.

575. THIERS (M. A.). The History of the French Revolution. Translated, with Notes and Illustrations, by F. Shoberl. 3 vols. royal 8vo, half red levant gilt, gilt tops, uncut. Phil. 1840

* CHOICE COPY. EXTRA-ILLUSTRATED by the insertion of 75 fine views and portraits.

576. THOREAU (HENRY DAVID). MANUSCRIPT NATURE AND BIRD NOTES OF H. D. THOREAU CONTAINED IN A SMALL FOLIO HALF-BOUND BLANK BOOK OF 128 PAGES, among which is THE FIRST ROUGH DRAFT OF ONE OF THOREAU'S EARLIEST PAPERS "A Walk to Wachusett," covering twenty-five pages. John and H. D. Thoreau's nature notes of the birds around Concord appear on many additional pages. Laid between each leaf are specimens of leaves, grasses and wild-flowers gathered on his walks, with the botanical name of each on a small piece of paper roughly torn off and laid in. A RARE EARLY JOURNAL, KEPT FIRST BY SOPHIA, THEN JOHN, AND FINALLY HENRY, WHEN THE LATTER WAS NOT MUCH MORE THAN A BOY, SHORTLY AFTER HE GRADUATED AT HARVARD AND WENT TO LIVE WITH EMERSON.

* THE DRAFT OF "A Walk to Wachusett" is written more fully than it appeared IN THE PUBLISHED FORM IN "Excursions," though no comparison has been made with its first appearance in print in Nathan Hale's Boston Miscellany, January, 1843. The long verses to the mountain varies materially and there are more and longer quotations throughout, including his famous reference to himself, "solitary as Wachusett." The closing paragraphs have been re-arranged, and a new beginning was substituted when it was published. Two loose sheets of notes on birds are laid in—one entirely in the hand of Thoreau (partly in pencil), while the other is apparently that of John, his brother and companion, and a note on p. 66 is initialled by him "H. D. T." in pencil. One of the bird notes (p. 15) is SIGNED "H. D. THOREAU." On page 74 THERE IS A HIGHLY INTERESTING REFERENCE TO HIMSELF IN HIS OWN HAND AS FOLLOWS:

"It may be well if first of all I should (give) some account first of my own species and variety—I am about five feet 7 inches in height—of a light complexion rather slimly built and just approaching to the Roman age of manhood. One who faces West oftener than East—walks out of the house with a better grace than he goes in—who loves winter as well as summer—forest as well as field—darkness as well as light. Rather solitary than gregarious—not migratory nor dormant—but to be raised at any season, by day or night, not by the pulling of any bell wire, but by a smart stroke upon any pine tree in the woods of Concord."

Most of Thoreau's notes are dated 1842—the year he lived with Emerson in Concord, the first one dated one month after John's death, though the book has other notes (made by John Thoreau) dated as early as 1837. A few of these are apparently in the hand of his sister Sophia and include a little poem by her. Together they form valuable and full references to the birds seen in Massachusetts and where found. They mention Walden Pond and Sleepy Hollow Cemetery [where Thoreau now lies buried]. Several times John mistakes a Wilson's Thrush for a hermit thrush, and one note ends with "Fell into the water." ONE PAGE IS FILLED WITH H. D. THOREAU'S DESCRIPTION of a partridge and her young that he disturbed. He speaks of handling the young: "So perfect was their instinct that when I laid them upon the leaves again and one accidentally fell on its side—it was found with the rest ten minutes afterward in exactly the same position—The young birds were extremely beautiful—the innocent yet adult expression of their eyes I shall not soon forget. There was the clarified wisdom and cunning of the sphinx and sybil in their clear eyes. When the mind is born then is not the eye born—Such pure expressions are very rare in nature—such a limpid well does not often refresh the wayfarer. Away down there in that dell of the woods was the whole wide heavens reflected and re-created."

A VERY EARLY AND EXCEEDINGLY INTERESTING ASSOCIATION ITEM IN CONNECTION WITH THOREAU AND HIS FAVORITE AND ONLY BROTHER. An amusing point in connection with the "Walk" was that it was suggested to Thoreau that he should "take payment in the form of Boston Miscellanies!" On the loose sheet alluded to above Thoreau has written characteristic philosophical reflections on Autumn, in which he compares life to a meadow, in summer "wearing her green plush" and later lying "white and still."

* FINE COPY OF THIS VERY SCARCE EDITION, which is incorrectly described by Lowndes, who gives it as a 12mo.

This work of the celebrated translator of the Bible is an exposition of the parable of the Unjust Steward; treats chiefly of the doctrine of the justification of faith, and contains also passages on property strongly controverting the idea of right of absolute ownership apart from social obligations. These opinions did not prevent Sir Thomas More from styling it "a very treasury and well-spring of wickedness."

* This superb book is one of the most notable editions of "The Complete Angler" ever issued. The text is printed by Whittingham, with a large beautiful type, and is that of the fifth edition, with the variations of the four previous editions indicated at the foot of each page. The charming embellishments after Stothard and Inskipp are all beautifully engraved on copper and steel and are splendid examples of the best English engraving by some of the foremost engravers. Those by Stothard consist of the scenic plates, and the views of the localities, which were painted on the spot. The fishes were painted from nature by Inskipp, who, to distinguished ability in his profession, unites the knowledge and ardor of a skilful angler.

588. WAR OF 1812. The War (a Periodical): being a Faithful Record of the Transactions of the War between the United States and Great Britain, declared the 18th of June, 1812. 2 vols. (all issued) 4to, old half sheep (some pp. time-stained). N. Y. 1812-14

* FIRST EDITION, being the original 104 numbers as published, with indexes.

The work was issued and edited by SAM'L WOODWORTH, author of "THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET," and was the first literary work he did in New York.

Besides containing minute details of the NAVAL and MILITARY OPERATIONS in the NORTH AND WEST, it also recalls the CAMPAIGNS AGAINST THE INDIANS in the SOUTH, and is interspersed throughout with patriotic POEMS AND SONGS, which echo the spirit and feeling of the time.

One of the most important of the works on this interesting subject. As a literary project the publication was a failure and is now of EXTREME RARITY.

589. WASHINGTON (GEORGE). Fine War Letter addressed to Brigadier-General Parsons, referring to his attack on the British at Norwalk, Conn.: "Present my particular thanks to Capt. Betts and such others of the officers and men, as well as the Militia as of the Continental troops, who distinguished themselves upon the present occasion . . . procure me an exact detail of the mischief done by the enemy at the different places, as well upon the persons as the property of the inhabitants."

I wish you to inform me of the movements of that body of the enemy which had advanced through Marrynick." 2 pp. folio. Headquarters, New Windsor, 1779

* Gen. Parsons was a Member of the Board that hanged Major André.

590. WASHINGTON (GEORGE). A Collection of Papers relative to Half-Pay and Commutation of Half-Pay granted by Congress to Officers of the Army. Compiled by Permission of His Excellency General Washington, from the Original Papers in his Possession. 8vo, half brown crushed levant gilt, gilt top (title and one leaf strengthened at back with transparent gauze and some pp. browned with time stains) by STIKEMAN. Fish Kill (N. Y.): Samuel Louden, 1783

* THE ORIGINAL EDITION OF THE CELEBRATED "NEWBURGH ADDRESSES" AND OTHER IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS.

While Washington was at Newburgh, Dec., 1782, great dissatisfaction manifested itself among his officers, and they addressed a Memorial to Congress, demanding their back pay and security for future services. Congress refused to grant their demands, and in the following March an able and spirited address, written by Maj. John Armstrong, was circulated with a view to stirring up a revolt, threatening the overthrow of the government. The matter became so serious that Washington appeared before a meeting of the malcontents, where, putting on his spectacles, he remarked: "You see, gentlemen, that I have not only grown gray, but blind in your service," and then delivered such a patriotic address that the spirit of insubordination immediately disappeared.

It was during this agitation that the officers of the Army, fearing for the stability of the republican form of government considered the erection of an American monarchy and intimated to Washington that they should be pleased to have him assume the title of KING.

AN HIGHLY INTERESTING IMPRINT AND OF EXCESSIVE RARITY.

591. WASHINGTON (GEORGE). A. L. S., 1 p. 4to, Mount Vernon, Dec. 12, 1788, with leaf of address (small strip missing) to Col. H. Lee, Alexandria, and marked in Washington's hand "Favored by Doct'r Le Moyens." (Outer margin of first page time-stained.)

* To Col. Henry Lee, better known as "Light Horse Harry," written a few weeks after Washington assumed the Presidency and mainly in the interest of the formation of the new government which Washington once designated an "ocean of difficulties." He urges Lee not to resign his candidacy as a member of the convention to ratify the Constitution:

"Mount Vernon, Dec. 12, 1788.

"Dear Sir,

"If you desire a more formal pedigree than the enclosed, return the one sent and another shall be framed by the time you send for Magnolio. When a bill of sale shall also be forwarded. And, as you have it not in your power (for want of the papers) to pass a deed of conveyance to me for the 5000 Acres of Land in Kentucky—agreeably to your Memorandum—I should be glad to receive some instrument (in case of accidents) by which I may establish my claim to it.

"Your intention to decline offering yourself for the Westmoreland district since you have received advice of Mr. Page's doing it, is an unequivocal proof, if proof was wanting of your friendly disposition, towards the New Government; but whether it is the most effectual way of serving it is another question. Whether Mr. Page's interest or yours, is best in that district I am not sufficiently informed to decide— But one thing I am sure of and that is that these matters (to stand upon equal ground with those who are opposing the Constitution) ought to be the result of previous consultation and arrangement

With sincere and affectionate reg.

I am ever

Yours

GO. WASHINGTON."

THE 5,000 ACRES OF LAND IN KENTUCKY, mentioned in Washington's letter, appear in the Schedule, of property appended to the Will, which schedule as well as the will was in the autograph of Gen. Washington. It includes several considerable landed estates in various States; Kentucky showing only these 5,000 acres, which the proprietor valued at 10,000 dollars.

Washington also schedules some property in Alexandria (Va.), where Col. Lee was located at the time this most interesting letter was written.

592. WASHINGTON (GEORGE). The Life of George Washington. By Jared Sparks. Illust. with 12 plates and extra-illustrated by the insertion of nearly 100 portraits, views and facsimiles, many of which are on Japan and India paper. 2 vols. royal 8vo, three-quarter red crushed levant morocco, gilt tops, uncut. Bost. 1839

* Interesting copy, with specially printed titles.

* FINE COPY OF THE EXTREMELY RARE FIRST ISSUE OF THE FIRST EDITION, containing the rare prefatory leaf, dated Bristol, Sept. 9, 1784.

In the first issue the morning prayer for the Supreme Rulers reads—"We beseech thee * * * to behold the Supreme Rulers of these United States and so replenish them with the grace of thy Holy Spirit," etc., which in the second issue is changed to "the Rulers of these United States, the Congress, the General Assemblies, the Governors, * * *" etc. The Articles of Religion, also, in the second issue are extended to 25 in number; whereas, in the first issue there are only 24. The Hurst copy, lacking the "prefatory leaf" and two leaves of text, and without the "Collection of Psalms," realized $75.00. The present is a spotlessly fine copy and is complete and perfect in every particular.

COLORING PLATES BY ROWLANDSON AND CRUIKSHANK.

596. WESTMACOTT'S ENGLISH SPY. Illustrated by Rowlandson and Cruikshank. FIRST EDN. Westmacott (C. M.). The English Spy, an Original Work, Characteristic, Satirical, and Humorous, comprising Scenes and Sketches in every Rank of Society, being Portraits of the Illustrious, Eminent, and Eccentric in every Rank of Society. 2 vols. thick royal 8vo, magnificently full bound in maroon crushed levant morocco, emblematical tooling on back and sides, inside gold borders, gilt tops. Lond. 1825-26

* A superb copy in every respect of this, one of the rarest of "colored plate" books. Contains 72 fine colored plates, and numerous woodcuts in the text, by R. Cruikshank (and with the rare one by Thomas Rowlandson). The best of all the books describing this period of Life in London, and the fashionable places of resort, the characters being the notorieties of the day and the illustrations giving portraits of them. The author was a species of blackmailer, insinuating many things against prominent people, and he freely hints or describes many adventures in this disguise. Three years after its publication he received a tremendous horsewhipping from Charles Kemble. Among the personages represented are George IV and his favorite, Countess of Conyngham, Charles Kemble, Grimaldi, Macready, Elliston, Liston, Dowton, Wallack, Mme. Vestris, "Pea Green" Hayne, Lord Wm. Lenox, Col. Berkeley (all concerned in the Maria Foote affair), and many others. The plates represent portraits of those mentioned, and the one by Rowlandson. "R. A.'s of Genius; At the Royal Academy" including portraits of West, Lupton, Hayden, etc., painting a nude model, is often missing.

AUTOGRAPH INSCRIBED.

597. WHITTIER (JOHN). Poetical Works. Numerous illusts. Royal 8vo, cloth gilt. Bost. 1885

* Inscribed on fly-leaf:

"John G. Whittier, Amesbury, Mass., U. S. May 16 1887."

598. WHITTIER (JOHN G.). WHITTIER'S CORRECTED PROOF SHEET OF HIS POEM, "In War Time," leaflet of 4 pp. [1864]. A piece torn away from the last leaf mutilates two verses, two others missing entirely, and writing on the reverse destroyed, BUT 16 VERSES INTACT WITH WHITTIER'S CORRECTIONS. The following verse was almost entirely changed by Whittier as follows:

Then, while the war net round us draws	At last the war net round us draws;
Let none complain	Shall we complain,
Still let us own the rightful cause	And stab with blame the right- ful cause?
And prove our fealty to the laws	Or prove our fealty to the laws
By patient pain	By patient pain?

* NO OTHER COPY KNOWN TO BE IN EXISTENCE.

599. WHITTIER (JOHN G.). "A Legend of the Lake." PRIVATELY PRINTED LEAFLET, 4 pp. 4to, which first appeared in the Atlantic for December, 1861, but NEVER INCLUDED BY WHITTIER IN ANY VOLUME OF HIS POEMS, AND SUPPRESSED BY HIM at the request of relatives.

* Printed by Asa C. Tuttle at Dover, N. H., 1893, with a preliminary note. VERY RARE.

600. WHITTIER (JOHN G.). Galley Proof Sheet of "Burning Driftwood." 22 verses, with pencilled copies of Whittier's Corrections.

* The poem was inspired by Whittier's love for sitting and musing before the fire; with an envelope directed by him to Lucy Larcom, his friend and literary co-worker.

601. WHITMAN (WALT). Franklin Evans; or, The Inebriate. A Tale of the Times. FIRST EDN. New World Extra for November, 1842. 4to, half green morocco extra, gilt top. N. Y. 1842

* An unusually fine copy of this, one of the RAREST of all Whitman items.

OSCAR WILDE'S FIRST POEM.

602. [WILDE (OSCAR).] Kottabos. Trinity College, Dublin. Two issues, viz., for Trinity Term, and Michaelmas Term, 1877. Containing a Poem, entitled: "Wasted Days," subscribed "O. F. O'F. W. W.", the full initials of Mr. Wilde's name. In 1 vol. 8vo, morocco, gilt leaves, RARE. Dublin, 1877

* The two lists of "Kottabistai" contain, between them, 32 names. On going through "Who's Who?" only two of them are found which belong to persons who subsequently qualified themselves for mention in that register of notabilities.

A former possessor of this book has pencilled beneath Wilde's pretty lines (written a year before his "Ravenna"), some doggerel about a "prison cell," "sins long rampant," and "Wasted Days."

Wilde paid a bitterer penalty than anybody can realise.

603. WINSOR (JUSTIN, Editor). Narrative and Critical History of America. Profusely illust. with Maps, Views, Portraits, etc. Large Paper Edition. 8 vols. Royal 8vo, boards, uncut. Bost. 1889

* No. 205 of but 550 sets PRINTED ON LARGE PAPER. This edition is printed on superior paper and contains many additional illustrations than the ordinary issue.

604. WITCHCRAFT. Giffard (George—Minister in Malden [Essex].) A Dialogue concerning Witches and Witchcrafts. In which is layed open how craftily the Diuell deceiveth not onely the Witches, but many other, and so leadeth them awrie into manie great errours. BLACK LETTER. Small 4to, full crimson morocco extra, gauffred gilt edges. Lond. 1603

* This most curious tract was reprinted by the Percy Society, in whose list it stands No. 24. It is for the most part a long dialogue between Samuel, a credulous man who believes himself bewitched, and his wiser neighbour, Daniel, who assures him that it is the Devil himself who has misled him. They proceed homewards, and there Samuel's wife relates certain ills she has sustained, which she credits to the account of an old woman. A learned schoolmaster present shows himself still more credulous than the unlearned Samuel, and is more diverting than the others, bringing forward many instances of witchcraft, with some of which he had personally become acquainted. His "yarns" are most fearsome, and must have made his hearers quake. There are allusions to the "Christall or glasse"; also to divining by water, to lucky and unlucky days, amulets, etc. A rare addition to a collection illustrating the widely spread superstition of the Sixteenth Century.

A BEAUTIFUL AND COSTLY SET.
